FORT WAYNE, IND., TUESDAY, OCT. 31, 1899.

PRICE TWO CENTS.

A STAGGERING BLOW.

Boers Give General White a Terrible Reverse, Taking Two Thousand Prisoners of War.

GLOOMS REIGNS IN GREAT BRITAIN.

London, Oct. 31.—The war office has received a dispatch from General White, commanding the British forces at Ladysmith, reporting that the Royal Irish fusiliers, No. 10 mountain battery and the Gloucestershire regiment were surrounded in the hills by the Boers and, after losing heavily, were obliged to capitulate.

General White adds that the casualties have not yet been ascertained.

GENERAL WHITE'S REPORT.

London, Oct. 31.—The following is the text of General White's dispatch to the war office:

"Ladysmith, Oct. 30.—10:35 p. m.—I have to report a disaster to the column sent by me to take a position on a hill to guard the left flank of the troops. In these operations to-day the Royal Irish fusiliers, No. 10 mountain battery and the Gloucestershire regiment were surrounded in the hills, and after losing heavily, had to capitulate.

"The casualties have not yet been ascertained.

"A man of the fusiliers, employed as a hospital orderly, came in under a flag of truce with a letter from the survivors of the column, who asked for assistance to bury the dead.

"I fear there is no doubt of the truth of the report.

OFFICERS CAPTURED.

General White, in a subsequent dispatch, says:

"The following is a list of the officers taken prisoners today:

"Staff—Major Adye.

"Irish Fusiliers—Colonel Carleton, Major Munn, Major Kincaide, Captain Burrow, Captain Rice, Captain Silver, Captain Heard, Lieutenant Southey, Lieutenant Phibbs, Lieutenant McGregor, Lieutenant Holmes, Lieutenant Kelly, Lieutenant Dooner, Lieutenant Kentish, Lieutenant Kinsman, Lieutenant Jewdine, Chaplain Matthew.

"Of the above Captains Rice and Silver and Lieutenant Dooner were wounded.

"Gloucestershire Regiment—Major Humphrey, Major Capel-Cure, Major Wallace, Captain Duncan, Captain Conner, Lieutenant Bryant, Lieutenant Nisbet, Lieutenant Ingham, Lieutenant Davy, Lieutenant Knox, Lieutenant Tempe, Lieutenant Radice, Lieutenant Breul, Lieutenant Hill, Lieutenant Short, Lieutenant Smith, Lieutenant Kinsie, Lieutenant Beasley, Lieutenant Gray.

"Of the above Captains Duncan and Conner were wounded.

"Royal Artillery—Major Bryant, Mounted Battery—Lieutenant Wheeler, Lieutenant Nugent, Lieutenant Moore, Lieutenant Webb."

A STAGGERING BLOW.

London, Oct. 31.—While minor reverses were not wholly unexpected, nothing like the staggering blow General Joubert delivered to General White's forces was anticipated. The full extent of the disaster is not yet acknowledged, if it is known, at the war office. The loss in effect must be most appalling to a general who is practically surrounded.

Two of the finest British regiments and a mule battery taken from Ladysmith garrison weakens it about a fifth of its total strength and alters the whole situation very materially in favor of the Boers, who have again shown themselves stern fighters and military strategists of no mean kind.

The disaster cost the British from 1,000 to 2,000 men and six seven-pound screw guns, and, as the Boer artillery is already stronger than imagined, the capture of these guns will be a great help to the Boers.

Further news must be awaited before it is attempted to fix the blame where it belongs.

General White manfully accepts all the responsibility for the disaster, which, apparently, was at least due to the stopping of the mules with the guns.

The interest in the news will be universal, pervading all classes and conditions of London's populace. The newspaper extras were eagerly read in business houses, on the streets and by women in their carriages.

Then there was rush to the war office, which by noon was surrounded by private carriages and handbells, while many of the humbler class of people were on foot, all waiting and watching for the names they held dear.

GLOOM AND SORROW.

Never was the old saw, "Bad news travels quickly," better exemplified here than today. By noon gloom and bitter sorrow prevailed throughout the British metropolis. At the government offices no effort was made to conceal the feeling of dismay prevailing.

One official said to a representative of the Associated Press:

"It is inexplicable and I am sorry to say that its moral effect is inestimable. We have lost heavily in many ways and have regiments almost wiped out, but to have regiments captured, and by the Boers, it is terrible!"

An official of the war office said to a representative of the Associated Press:

"The disaster is more likely due to the care of our younger officers to distinguish themselves, obtain mention in the despatches and earn the Victoria cross than to the fault of that splendid Indian veteran, General White, in spite of his avowal."

As the day wore on the crowd around the war office swelled to enormous proportions and at Gloucester, the home of many of those engaged, the wildest excitement prevailed.

The special editions of the local newspapers were speedily exhausted and the same thing occurred at Bristol and other towns in that county.

Coming so soon after the engagement at Reitfontein, where the Gloucestershires suffered heavily, it brought the keenest sorrow to households all over the county whose name the regiment bears.

The disaster had an immediate effect upon the stock exchange here, where consols fell $\frac{1}{8}$. South African securities dropped heavily, and lines falling 2 points. Rio Tinto fell $\frac{3}{4}$.

NEWSPAPER COMMENT.

The afternoon newspapers made only brief editorial comments on the news from Ladysmith, but their headlines voiced the feelings of general sorrow. The tone of the editorials can be summed up in the following statement of the St. James Gazette:

"It is evident that the patriotism and fortitude of the nation are to be tested in real earnest by these operations of ours in Natal against great odds. General White has a difficult task set him and we must take the disaster with the dogged coolness which Britons know how to display. We shall await the final result without apprehension."

The Globe calls upon the British empire to receive this "bitter and unpalatable dispatch with the spirit of a great nation that relies upon its invincible reserves of strength."

A BATTLE IN PROGRESS.

Cape Town, Oct. 31.—3:15 p. m.—The South African News publishes the following dispatch:

"Ladysmith, Oct. 31.—A battle is proceeding at the foot of Umbanane, a few miles from Ladysmith. Several shells have dropped into the town."

SEIGE OF KIMBERLEY.

Cape Town, Oct. 31.—It is reported from Barkley-West that the Boers are constructing forts around Kimberley for the purpose of shelling the town.

SECOND ARMY CORPS CALLED.

London, Oct. 31.—It is learned by the Associated Press that the war office has ordered a second army corps to be in readiness to be called out.

The military officials have not yet decided whether the consummation of the plan will be necessary, but (Continued on Fifth Page.)

AN ENVOY NAMED.

AGUINALDO WANTS A MAN IN WASHINGTON.

SPANIARD TENDERED POST

DR. REGIDORE JURADO, OF LONDON, SOLICITED.

WOULD NOT BE RECOGNIZED

JURADO HAS A MISSION OVER THIS SIDE.

London, Oct. 31.—Dr. Regidore Jurado, chairman of the Spanish chamber of commerce in this city, yesterday evening received a telegram sent by Senor Paterno, president of the so-called Filipino cabinet, from Manila as follows:

"I have been instructed by Aguinaldo to ask you to accept the post of representative of the Filipino government in Washington if you are going to America for any other purpose."

Mr. Jurado says he will not accept the official position. He goes to the United States in the interest of the Filipino clergy who are anxious to secure the same protection that Major General Otis has granted to the Spanish clergy.

If he accepted an official position in Washington, it is claimed the authorities would not recognize him.

BIG FIRE AT SING SING.

New York, Oct. 31.—The new administration building at Sing Sing prison, built by convict labor under Warden Sage and considered to have been one of the handiest structures of the kind in the country, was half destroyed by fire by dawn today. The loss is about $50,000, uninsured. The fire started at 2:30 a. m. in the bakery and kitchen. The bakery is close to the administration building, a brick structure 600 feet long and four stories high. The first floor is used as a mess room. The second floor was principally used for a Protestant and Roman Catholic chapel. The top floor was the prison hospital. Twenty-eight patients were in the hospital when the fire broke out. They were all quickly moved out without disorder to the hospital building and temporarily provided for there. The fire obtained headway in the administration building and before the fire apparatus of Sing Sing and nearby towns could be brought into action, and was only brought under control after a hard four-hours fight. The roof of the administration building fell in. The cause of the fire is unexplained.

MR. BRYAN IS CONFIDENT.

Kearney, Neb., Oct. 31.—William Jennings Bryan began the last week of his tour of the state yesterday, and between sunrise and sunset delivered seven set speeches and six impromptu talks. The people are very enthusiastic. Mr. Bryan was in fine form and to all remarks touching the situation he replied that it was growing more encouraging daily. The fusion leaders, with the exception of Mr. Bryan, admit the republicans have made some gains, but they insist their gains are not sufficient to effect the result and that the state will go for fusion from 5,000 to 8,000, the state chairman of the fusion forces placing it at 15,000. Mr. Bryan insists that nothing less than an accident can defeat the fusion forces.

MINISTERS FIGHT ROBERTS.

Indianapolis, Oct. 31.—The Indianapolis Ministers' association has adopted resolutions calling upon Senators Fairbanks and Beveridge and Congressman Overstreet to do all in their power to secure the expulsion of Congressman Roberts, of Utah, and urge a constitutional amendment defining legal marriage as monogamic and making any polygamist ineligible to vote or hold office. Methodist ministerial associations throughout the country will be asked to adopt similar resolutions.

BRYAN WILL BE NOMINEE.

Norfolk, Va., Oct. 31.—Arthur Sewall, of Bath, Me., former democratic candidate for vice president, has arrived from Beaufort, N. C., where he has been to look after his interests in the derelict schooner Carrie A. Lane. In an interview he expressed himself as being sure that Mr. Bryan would be renominated next year, but when asked if he would accept a renomination for vice president he preferred not to express himself. He said that the money question would be in the democratic platform as before, but he was non-committal as to what prominence it would have.

OLD BANK CHANGES ITS NAME.

Auburn, Ind., Oct. 31.—The First National bank of this city, one of the oldest banks in northern Indiana, will be known hereafter as the McClellan bank. It will have the same capital and a surplus of $60,000. Its directors are the C. A. O. McClellan estate, Charles McClellan, D. A. Garwood and Isaac Hayne. At the meeting of the directors Charles McClellan was elected president and Claude A. Benedict cashier. The business of the bank is in a prosperous condition.

SCORNO TO TAKE PENNIES

BURGLAR AFTER BIG STAKES LEAVES IN DISGUST.

Forced an Entrance Into Gilmar-martin's Lumber Office and Declined to Take Twelve Cents.

Somewhere in Fort Wayne last night was a very much disgusted burglar. He was after big stakes, and declined to lower his professional dignity sufficiently to steal twelve pennies which represented the total cash within his reach, and so left the place in disgust.

Sometime during the night the burglar forced an entrance into the office of Edward Gilmartin's lumber yards on Holman street by smashing in a rear window. The watchman in the lumber yards heard no noise and the cracksman evidently operated with the ease of a professional. The office shows evidence of having been rummaged through, but Mr. Gilmartin says nothing is missing. Twelve pennies which were in the cash drawer were not molested, and if the safe was tampered with, no damage was done. Mr. Gilmartin says if the next nocturnal visitor will apprise him of his intention to visit the place, he will tender him a key in order that it may not be necessary to break the glass to gain an entrance.

RECRUITING IS ENDED.

The flag was hauled down from above the Fort Wayne recruiting office this morning, and the station has gone out of existence. Lieutenant Rowell came from Indianapolis to close the station, and two young men who had applied for enlistment failed to come up to the physical requirements. The business affairs of the office are being closed up today, and Sergeant James A. Stewart, who has been in charge of the office, leaves tomorrow for Indianapolis to resume his duties in the recruiting service there.

TWO WOMEN MURDERED.

Pittsfield, Mass., Oct. 31.—A stage driver who arrived here today from Hancock, a small place near the western border of the state, brought news of a double murder which occurred half a mile from that village yesterday. Mrs. Rhoda Horton and her daughter, Eliza Jane Horton, were the victims, and the alleged murderer is George Herman, a farm hand. The tragedy occurred at the Horton farm house. Both women were shot and Herman attempted to end his own life in the same way. He is so badly wounded that his recovery is doubtful.

MR. HOBART IMPROVED.

New York, Oct. 31.—At 1 o'clock this afternoon Mr. Hobart was resting quietly. No change for the worse is anticipated this afternoon or evening. Mr. Hobart awoke at 9 o'clock refreshed and feeling much stronger than yesterday. His pulse was firmer and he took considerable nourishment. He sat upon the edge of the bed and chatted with Mrs. Hobart and read the papers, showing as much interest in what was going on about him as when well. The doctor said that he was improving, although in a weak and critical condition.

ANNUAL MISSION FEAST.

The yearly mission feast of St. John's Reformed church will be held next Sunday, and Rev. John Winter, of Huntington, will preach at both morning and evening services.

The Christian Endeavor of Plymouth church will give a Halloween social at the church parlors this evening.

PANIC IN A BOAT.

NEW YORK FERRY CRAFT IS SENT TO BOTTOM.

BUT ONE LIFE WAS LOST

WAS PENNSYLVANIA ROAD'S FERRYBOAT.

WAS SUNK IN A COLLISION

CREW OF BOAT WORKED LIKE HEROES TO SAVE LIFE.

New York, Oct. 31.—The Pennsylvania Railway company's ferryboat Chicago, plying between Cortlandt street, this city, and the Pennsylvania railway depot in Jersey City, was cut down by the Savanna line steamship City of Augusta about 1 o'clock this morning as the ferryboat was crossing to the east side of the North river. Within a few minutes of the collision, and before the Chicago could make her slip, she sunk in seventy-five feet of water. It is no definitely known how many passengers were on board the Chicago at the time of the disaster, but the number is variously estimated at from 50 to 100.

ONE MAN DEAD.

One man, John Bryson, is known to have been drowned. His body was recovered. Fireman Vroom, of the Chicago, is missing, and is thought to have been caught in the stove hold. It is not improbable that other lives were lost.

When the Chicago left Jersey City at 12:44 a. m. Captain William Durham was in the forward pilot house directing the boat personally and one of his deck hands was at the wheel. The night was perfectly clear. The tide was ebbing fast and Captain Durham on this account was obliged to keep his boat headed well up stream.

As he neared the New York shore he put his helm over to head into the slip and as the Chicago swung around the captain caught sight of the City of Augusta bearing down on him. She was coming up stream and very close.

Captain Durham gave two blasts of his whistle to signify his intention to pass to starboard and putting his helm apart he rang the signal to go ahead at full speed.

The City of Augusta, Captain Durham says, did not reply to the signal, but kept right in her course. A moment later the City of Augusta rammed the Chicago just abast her paddle wheel on the starboard side.

A WILD SCRAMBLE.

A scene of wild excitement followed. The passengers, most of whom had risen to go to the forward end of the ferryboat to be prepared to leave as she reached her slip, made a wild scramble for life preservers.

Fortunately there were few women aboard—not more than five or six—and at first they were shoved to the rear. George Blumenstock and George Ray, truckmen who were coming over to the city with their loads of milk, jumped into the middle of the struggling mass and yelled "Hands off! The women first! Save the women!"

A score of men took up the shout and in a trice the women were fitted with life preservers. The small number of passengers did not exhaust the supply of life preservers, but many in their excitement did not stop to put them on, but leaped overboard unprovided.

It is feared that some such persons must have gone down in the chilly waters before help came.

BRAVERY OF DECK HANDS.

The deck hands displayed commendable courage. Captain Durham and Chief Engineer Penfield set splendid examples. Captain Durham was the last man to leave his boat. He kept up a constant call for help with his whistle and when he finally left he tied the whistle to keep up the sound and when the Chicago finally went down she did it with her whistle blowing. Engineer Penfield kept his hand on the throttle until the water put out his fires and he had scarce time to run on deck and jump overboard when the boat went down. "Don't get excited, she won't sink," the deck hands cried as they ran among the passengers, "plenty of time."

They managed to reassure the majority of the passengers.

A SECOND PANIC.

Captain Durham saw the Chicago was doomed and he gave the command for all hands to go on the upper deck. This created a new panic and men and women by the dozen leaped overboard and struggled to get away from the vortex when it came.

of the hole she had made. Her anchor chains were entangled in the splinters and despite her reversed engines she was unable at first to do more than pull the Chicago down stream with her. The City of Augusta's nose was clear into the Chicago's hull. She finally managed to get clear and backed away. No effort was made by her crew to lower boats to help the passengers off the Chicago, who were then in the water by the score, their cries being plainly audible on shore.

The tug Chauncey M. Depew reached the scene before the Chicago sank and took thirty-five people from the ferryboat and out of the water.

PASSENGERS RESCUED.

The fire boat, the police boat Patrol and several launches were called to the scene and lent valuable work in rescuing people. Several small boats were sent out from the neighboring piers and in ones and twos and threes the drenched, chilled and sometimes unconscious passengers were brought into the piers, where they received needed attention.

John Bryson, who was drowned, was the driver of a United States mail van going to the New York postoffice. Besides the vehicle in Bryson's charge there were on the Chicago a truck belonging to the Adams Express company containing $8,000 in silver bars, two produce trucks, two milk trucks and one other wagon.

CLERKS' UNION FAIR IS ON

GOOD CROWD AT THE OPENING FESTIVITIES.

Pretty Decorations and an Attractive Program—Entries for the Various Contests.

Monday evening was the opening night of the Clerks' Union fair, which is being held in the Y. M. C. A., and a large number of people took in the exhibition during the evening. The rooms are handsomely decorated and exhibits are made by a large number of wholesale and retail firms in the city. There was no opening address owing to the absence of Mayor Scherer from the city and the guests were invited to fall to without any ceremony, which they did. There were a number of booths which were not completed, but among those whose exhibits were in order were: The Packard Piano company, Soliday, Hite & Co., Wolf & Dessauer, Marion Black, G. E. Bursley & Co., the latter having a room to themselves in which their exhibit of coffee and other groceries was shown, and which is one of the best in the fair. The first floor is occupied with booths of many descriptions, which were literally patronized during the evening. The Beineke orchestra furnished the music in the exhibition room, and afterward in the gymnasium for dancing. Little Misses Gladys Haskell and Marion Purcell gave a cake walk during the evening, and their performance met with great applause. The Wayne quartet gave several excellent vocal selections. Following are the entries for the different contests:

Most Popular Union Man—Cane and umbrella; C. J. Steiss, John Brunskill, James Dormer, Harry Harrison, G. R. Hench.

Most Popular Baby—Go-cart; Henrietta Kelker, Camille Roussel.

Most Popular School Girl—Watch; Lilian Sanders, Marie Hilker, Clara Schmitzer.

Most Popular Gentleman Clerk—Bicycle; Tony Bott, Charles Strittmatter.

Most Popular Lady Clerk—Collarette; Miss Sadie Smith, Miss Sadie Tonne.

Most Popular Working Girl—Electric seal jacket; Miss Ella Burns, Miss Rose Smith, Miss Hanna Wilkinson, Miss Agnes Felts.

Most Popular Young Lady—Diamond ring; Miss Katherine Langohr, Miss Ella Gaff, Miss Collins, Miss Tillie Ringenberger, Miss Grace May.

TONIGHT'S PROGRAM.

This evening Reineke's full orchestra will render a musical program from 8 to 9 o'clock, and this will be followed by the jubilee singers in a selection of old plantation melodies. Dancing from 9:30 to 11.

WILL ELECT A TREASURER.

The board of directors of the Reformed orphans' home will hold a meeting at that institution this evening. The most important business to come before the session is the election of a treasurer to succeed Rev. Ruf, who is now superintendent of the home.

Mrs. J. F. W. Meyer left today for a visit with her sons at St. Louis and will be absent several weeks.

NEW FIRM FORMED

THE JOHNSON-HUNTER DENTAL MANUFACTURING CO.

WILL MAKE DENTAL SUPPLIES

NEW MANUFACTURING INTEREST IN FORT WAYNE.

FACTORY ON BARR STREET

HAS BEEN LEASED AND WORK BEGINS AT ONCE

The Johnson-Hunter Dental Manufacturing company is the name of a new Fort Wayne institution which sprang into existence today, when articles of partnership were witnessed by and between Dr. George E. Johnson, president of the Peerless Fountain Cuspidor company, and L. C. Hunter, treasurer of the same organization. The new firm is formed for the manufacture of specialties and general supplies for dentists, prominent among which are the celebrated Peerless fountain, and an entirely new design, the Sea Shell fountain cuspidor.

The members of the new firm are both well known Fort Wayne citizens. Dr. Johnson is a leading dentist on Washington boulevard and Mr. Hunter is the county treasurer. Both are gentlemen of large business experience and ample means, and this is of itself an assurance of a successful career in the manufacturing line. Messrs. Chapin and Denny, the patent attorneys, are stockholders in the Peerless company and have been retained as legal advisors of the new firm, but will not be burdened with the duties of manufacturing.

In addition to the original capital stock of the Peerless company, the new firm will have an increased capital stock of $10,000. Dr. Johnson is president of the new company and will have charge of the department of drafting, art, invention and mechanical technique, but will also retain his dental practice. Mr. Hunter is secretary and treasurer of the new company, and will devote his entire attention to the management of the business after the expiration of his term of service as treasurer on January 1.

A large and commodious building owned by John White, on Barr street, has been leased, and soon this building will be a beehive of industry. Box machines, screw machines, engines, lathes, milling machines, punch and die presses, drilling presses, grinders and a fully equipped nickel plating plant will be installed. The plating department will be in charge of Fred Heine, of the Wayne Plating works, and John Lipes will be foreman of the machine department.

The new decorated porcelain shell fountain, one of Dr. Johnson's latest inventions, is truly a pretty specimen of the ceramic art and is greatly admired by all who see it. It promises to be a winner on the market. The doctor is taking out twenty new patents in this and foreign countries on inventions in addition to those owned by the company, and as soon as possible the business will be extended to foreign countries. The new organization is a substantial addition to the manufacturing interests of the city.

ALEXANDER HAMILTON DUKE.

Kokomo, Ind., Oct. 31.—Alexander Hamilton Duke, for fifty years a resident of this city and one of the best known men of the county, died last night of Bright's disease. He was chief of police of Kokomo in the early 70's and he succeeded in breaking up the notorious Mollahan gang, an organization of thieves and outlaws with ramifications in almost every town and village in north-central Indiana. He served two terms as sheriff of the county and had held other positions of public trust. At the time of his death he was a councilman for the third time from the First ward.

IN THE OLD DOMINION.

Richmond, Va., Oct. 31.—President McKinley made his first official visit to the state of Virginia today and was given a genuine Old Dominion welcome. Accompanied by members of his cabinet and many distinguished personages, he came here to witness the launching of the torpedo boat Shubrick, the first torpedo boat ever built in the south. A scene of great enthusiasm ensued when the president and party reached the city.

Miss Laura Pettit will entertain at progressive parlors on Saturday afternoon from 3 to 6 p. m.

PLENTY OF IT.

Lots More Proof Like This and It is All From People You Know.

"The proof of the pudding is in the eating of it." If any city or town in the union has sufficient proof that the representations made for a household necessity are true, that place is Fort Wayne. If the cures in Fort Wayne numbered some half-dozen there might be grave doubts about their genuineness. That many people in a place the size of Fort Wayne might have based their opinions on pure imagination, but when public endorsement reaches scores, and as many more indorseers are willing to testify to the merits of Doan's Kidney Pills, the evidence and the proof is incontrovertible. Investigation, the most superficial, will prove that Doan's Kidney Pills are an actual household necessity in Fort Wayne. Here is one of our endorseers:

Miss Mary Arnold, of 14 Summit street, says: "Before I got Doan's Kidney Pills at Meyer Bros. & Co.'s drug store I took medicine of different kinds and was under the doctor's care, but neither seemed to do me any good. The doctor said I had kidney trouble, but at the same time did not give me much, if any, relief. I read about Doan's Kidney Pills and decided to try them. I had no sooner started to use them than I felt better. My backache, which had been very bad, began to bother me less and the dizziness also gradually began to disappear. The other symptoms of weak kidneys left and I steadily improved until I was in better health than I had been for years. The kidney trouble not only left me, but I cannot feel too thankful for the great good received from Doan's Kidney Pills."

THE COURT NEWS.

BIG SUIT FOR DAMAGES AGAINST THE WABASH.

AUGUST KAADE IS PLAINTIFF

LILLIAN MAY BOSEKER IS GIVEN A DIVORCE.

HILKER CASE IN DECEMBER

IVINS AND JONES ASK FOR CHANGE OF VENUE.

Through his attorneys, Ninde & Sons, August Kaade, a former employee of the Wabash railway, has commenced suit for $10,000 against the Wabash railway. The complaint alleges that in August, 1898, while employed by the company, a ninety-five-pound wedge fell on plaintiff and so injured him that he has been unable since to resume his employment. He was at work under an engine when another employee loosened a bolt in the axle-box and allowed the heavy wedge to fall on plaintiff.

MRS BOSEKER GETS DIVORCE.

Judge Vesey heard the evidence in the divorce case commenced by Lillian May Boseker against Harry C. Boseker and granted the plaintiff a decree. She was allowed to resume the maiden name, Lillian May Rodeheaver, but no alimony went with the decree, the financial part of the proceedings having been settled out of court.

HILKER CASE SET BACK.

On motion Judge O'Rourke has reset the case against William Hilker for trial on December 27, 1899. Delay in the commencement of the trial means that there will probably be no application made for a change of venue.

ASK FOR CHANGE.

Barrett & Morris, representing defendants in the damage case of Eunice Conklin vs. W. D. Jones and Lee Ivins, have filed an application for a change of venue from the county. Judge O'Rourke deferred action until the attorneys could agree on some other county to try the case in.

NOTES.

Charles Youse is on trial in 'Squire France's court this afternoon on a charge of trespass preferred by Enoch Clayton. The principals in the case are farmers who reside in Madison township.

Richard F. Markey has been appointed administrator of the estate of Eliza Markey, deceased.

Jacob Snyder, guardian of Ralph M. Grace C. and Grover C. Snyder and Carrie May Baker, reports that he has made settlement of his wards' interests in the estates of John and Susan Horn.

Henry I. Smith has qualified as administrator of the estate of Julian Didier.

Judge O'Rourke has granted Harriet C. Scarlett a divorce from William H. Scarlett. The plaintiff was also given alimony in the sum of $100.

The claim docket in the circuit court will be called on the first day of the next term of court, November 20.

George Wilhelm has sued the Consolidated Street railway for $100 damages. A. H. Bittinger is plaintiff's attorney.

Judge Vesey dismissed the case of Schane vs. Schane.

The jury in the case of Besancon vs. Klink, which was on trial for two days in the superior court, returned a verdict giving plaintiff judgment for $140.

In the case of Jesse Holliday, trustee, vs. the Wabash railway, plaintiff filed bond for costs and Judge Vesey ruled that defendant should answer before 10 o'clock on November 1.

Judge Vesey and a jury are trying the case of Hugh Kain et al. vs. Henry Van Camp.

In the divorce case of Mary Beyerlin vs. Frederick Beyerlein Judge Vesey ordered that a nunc pro tunc entry be made.

Anna E. Webster has commenced suit for divorce from George Webster, alleging abandonment. The couple were married on June 1, 1896, and defendant abandoned the plaintiff in October, 1898. Plaintiff asks for permission to resume her maiden name, Anna E. Knop.

Ira Runion, Louis, Henry and August Pequinot, all of Eel River township, were arrested and taken before Justice Bullerman late this afternoon on the charges of assault and battery, the fight between them having occurred last week. Runion and August Pequinot were fined $1 and costs each and Louis and Henry Pequinot were released.

TERRITORY WILL BE ANNEXED

MR. ALDERMAN THEN AGREES TO OPEN STREETS.

Force and John Will Be Extended to the City Limits—Board of Works.

An ordinance introduced in the council providing for the annexation of property east of Hanna street from Colerick street to the extended line of Smith street, means that an agreement has been reached between the city and Frank Alderman, who owns a big portion of the property in the territory which it is proposed to annex. The board of works some time ago secured from Mr. Alderman a written agreement that if the property was annexed to the city he would agree to open Force and John streets to the new city limits. For years there has been contention between Councilman Borkenstein and Mr. Alderman on this question and the signed agreement settles the matter and it is believed now that there will be no further objection to annexing the territory.

BOARD OF WORKS.

At the regular meeting Monday afternoon the board of works approved a plat for vacating the alley south of Huestis avenue, in Thompson's Third addition.

The board accepted a private sewer constructed in the alley north of Edgerton street.

Contractor Fleming reported that he had completed the Lewis street pavement and the board will pass on the assessment rolls at Thursday evening's meeting.

The bond of Thomas Ahern, a sewer builder, was approved.

SEE QUIT COFFEE

And Got Well in Common Sense Way.

"When I left off coffee it seemed that was the thing hardest to drop. I had been put on a diet for stomach trouble, had a good appetite, but no food would stay on my stomach. I was compelled to leave off one thing after another, but never suspected coffee. When I decided to leave off the coffee, however, my stomach trouble ceased entirely, also my nervousness, and I can again sleep well. But a new trouble then arose. How was I to get along without my coffee? It was a great temptation when I saw it on the table in the morning. One day a friend who knew of my case sent me a package of Postum Cereal Food Coffee. After it had been prepared I had great misgivings about using it, for it looked so much like fine coffee that I feared it would have the same effect, but I soon found it to be free from all injurious properties and its use has been of great benefit to me.

"I have never had any taste for coffee since using Postum Cereal Food Coffee. My children derive great benefit from using Postum. We all enjoy it very much, having discarded the old-fashioned coffee entirely."

Alice Lawrence, Bowen, Mont.

Postum Food Coffee is sold by all first-class grocers at 15 and 25 cents per package.

STUDENTS' PETITION.

It is said the class in myology in the Fort Wayne Medical college, which is taught by Dr. C. E. Barnett, has prepared a petition asking for a change in teachers and that it is now in the hands of the faculty. One of the students said to The Sentinel today the class would attend Dr. Barnett's lectures Wednesday morning.

ILLINOIS TRYING TO COLLECT PENALTIES.

SUITS FOR $400,000 FILED

TRUSTS FAILED TO FURNISH AFFIDAVITS.

PENALTIES ARE $75 PER DAY

TRACTION COMPANIES AMONG THOSE SUED.

Chicago, Oct. 31.—Civil suits for the collection of penalties aggregating $402,500 for violation of the anti-trust and pooling law were begun here today under the direction of the attorney general against fifty corporations doing business in Chicago and Cook county. The penalties are at the rate of $75 a day for failure to file affidavits that the corporations are not in any agreement or combination for the control of output, prices or the restriction of trade.

Among the corporations which it is alleged have failed to comply with the law are the West Chicago Street railway and the Metropolitan Elevated Railway company.

THE RECORD OF CASUALTIES.

BADLY SCALDED.

Mrs. L. P. Ingles, of Bloomingdale, was severely scalded about the arms and body, Monday, while lifting a kettle of hot water from the stove. One of the handles broke and the steaming contents of the kettle was spilled on her arms and body, causing painful burns.

BROKE HIS WRIST.

Fred, the twelve-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John Martin, of West Jefferson street, was scuffling with a number of companions while returning from school, Monday afternoon, when he fell and broke his right wrist. A physician set the fractured member.

OTHER ACCIDENTS

A baby son of Mrs. Josephine Fink, of Stophlet street, fell from a baby carriage, Monday afternoon, and sustained several cuts and abrasions.

Henry Saunders, who is employed in the Hart sawmill in Marion township, was badly cut about the arm and hand by a large circular saw, on Monday afternoon.

SUNDAY HUNTING.

Editor Sentinel:—Your paper is all ways on the side of law and order. Can you suggest any means by which the farmers can be protected from Sunday hunters? A very large majority of farmers like to go to church with their families, as it is their duty to do. Hunters take advantage of their absence and paying no attention to notices knock down fences, shoot among their cattle whenever a bird happens to get up thus making it a necessity for farmers to stay away from church to protect their premises. Last Sunday it was bang, bang all over the township southwest of your city. These pot-hunters pay no attention to the commandments of God or the laws of man. If you can suggest some feasible plan to put an end to this lawlessness you will oblige a lot of your farmer subscribers and farmers generally.

LECTURES ON FREEDMEN.

On Wednesday evening Mrs. Palmer, a gifted member of the Presbyterian Freedmen's board, will deliver a lecture at Westminster church upon the work among the American freedmen. Soon after the emancipation of the American negro Mrs. Palmer devoted a number of years to religious work among the colored people in the southern states and since that time has been engaged in missionary work in China and various other fields. She is a most gifted speaker.

AN UNSAVORY DISPUTE.

Deputy Sheriffs Young and Witte made no arrests at Sheldon Monday. When they arrived there they learned that on Sunday Samuel Carpenter had a quarrel with Robert Carpenter, a brother, and Robert's wife, Rosa Carpenter. Samuel slapped the woman and thrashed her husband, but as there were no affidavits the officers did not arrest any of the persons

DEATHS AND FUNERALS.

ENGLE.

The death of Mrs. Rosina Engle occurred this morning at the home of her son, William Engle, 179 West DeWald street, and was due to paralysis. Mrs. Engle had reached the age of seventy-five years. Her husband died a number of years ago. She was a native of Germany and came to America sixty-one years ago. Surviving her are two sons—William Engle, of this city, and John Engle, who resides at Kansas City. Mrs. Regina Wells, of Fort Wayne, is a sister.

The funeral services will be held Friday afternoon at 1:30 from the residence and at 2 o'clock from Bethel Evangelical church, corner of Clinton and East DeWald streets.

FUNERAL ANNOUNCEMENT.

Ziegenfelder.—Funeral services of Mrs. Mary Ziegenfelder will be held Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the residence, 280 East Jefferson street, and at 2:30 from the Cathedral.

EXONERATES OFFICERS.

Coroner Charles S. Williams, of Whitley county, filed his report in the Otto Cummins case with the Whitley county clerk Monday. It is quite a voluminous document, containing the evidence of several Fort Wayne officers and physicians. Basing his judgment upon the evidence, the coroner rendered the following verdict:

I, Chas. S. Williams, coroner of Whitley county, Indiana, aforesaid, do therefore find as my verdict in the matter of the death of said Otto Cummins, that said Otto Cummins came to his death by a fracture of the inner plate of the skull, producing a blood clot and consequent death. I do further find that so far as the evidence discloses, that said death was accidental, and I do further find that at the time of his arrest in the city of Fort Wayne he was laboring under mania produced by epilepsy, and that the officials who had him in charge used only such force as was necessary to control and overpower him, and that while the force used in controlling him may or may not have been the cause of his death, yet such force was necessary, and no injury to the person of said Otto Cummins was contemplated by said officers in the discharge of their duty.

Chas. S. Williams,
Coroner of Whitley County.

SEEKING NEW LOCATION.

Mr. Hurst, traveling agent of Swift & Co., the Chicago beef packers, who have a wholesale depot on North Calhoun street, has been in the city with a view of finding a view location for the branch house here. The location at the corner of Columbia and Clinton streets was under consideration, but it is believed no determination has been reached in the matter.

CHARMED A GREAT AUDIENCE

OPENING ENTERTAINMENT OF WOMAN'S CLUB LEAGUE.

Chicago Symphony Orchestra and
Soloists in an Artistic Recital
at Princess Rink.

Adolph Rosenbecker and his magnificent Chicago Symphony orchestra gave unmeasured delight to an audience of two thousand people at Princess rink Monday evening. It was the opening of the third season of the Woman's Club league entertainment course and in all respects a most auspicious introduction to the splendid series of entertainments that is to follow. With the orchestra a trio of stellar soloists—Mme. Ragna Linne, soprano; William H. Sherwood, pianist; and Heinrich Meyn, baritone—shared the honors of the evening, and the applause which greeted each number was wholehearted and sincere. The program was entirely classical and of a very high order, yet in its marvelous execution there was a delight for both the cultivated musical taste and the simpler lover of music whose soul responds genuinely to its influences without being able to define its witchery in technical terms. There was throughout the audience a genuine appreciation of the program in its entirety, from the opening overture from Tanhauser, through a wide range of musical versatility to the closing chords of Mendelssohn's Wedding March from Midsummer Night's Dream. Every number added new evidence to the artistic ability of the talented musicians Mr. Rosenbecker has gathered around him and their interpretation of musical expression in all its lights and shades showed how thoroughly the artistic spirit glows in each performer. Mr. Sherwood was in high favor with the audience and his delightful rendition of Saint-Saens' concerto at his first appearance was so thoroughly admired that he was obliged to respond to an encore. This was again true of his second number, and the audience seemed unwilling to part with an artist whose music appealed to the heart. Again and again Mr. Sherwood was compelled to bow his acknowledgments. Mme. Linne gave a very artistic rendition of the aria from the Queen of Sheba, and in response to an encore sang "The Snowflake." Her voice is sweet and sympathetic and is handled with the grace and culture of an artist. The baritone, Mr. Meyn, sang his way at once into the hearts of his hearers with the magnificent Toreador's Song from "Carmen," his rich and beautifully modulated voice displaying itself to splendid advantage. So prolonged was the applause which greeted this number that Mr. Meyn responded with Stephen Adams' "Adieu, Marie," and here his fine enunciation was especially apparent. In the orchestral accompaniments Mr. Rosenbecker's control was seen. His performers are instantly responsive to the movement of his baton, and while the orchestration was full and complete, the vocalists was at all times paramount. Theodore Beresina, solo violinist; Waldo Singer, harpist; and Mr. Frye, as accompanist on the piano, competently contributed to the general excellence of the evening's pleasure. It is not too much to say that the opening entertainment of the club league course left nothing to be desired.

Some quick work in the way of dealing out punishment to the wicked was done in the circuit court at Hartford City last Friday by Judge Vaughn. Will Harrigan, a young man who spent about a day in the forged check industry, was indicted by the grand jury at 4:30 p. m. When the indictment was presented Harrigan was arraigned and pleaded guilty to the charge and in about a minute had his sailing papers for Jeffersonville.

Miss Nellie Berger, who was abducted from her home in the northern part of Miami county a few months ago by Roy Jones, a horse-trader, who kept her quiet by threatening to kill her, is still in an alarming condition, the result of her unpleasant experience. Ever since she has been rescued and brought home she has been prostrated and unable to leave her bed. However, there are hopes of her recovery. Jones, who is in jail here, does not seem to care much about his lengthy stay in jail, and he amuses himself and friends in the adjoining cells by singing the latest songs of the day. His trial may be called the second week of the November term of court.

VOCAL ORGANS WORN OUT.

Wabash, Ind., Oct. 31.—Robert Miller, a well known traveling man for a short manufacturing concern in Goshen, is suffering from a peculiar affliction that has compelled him to abandon the road. A few days ago, while on a trip, he noticed that his voice was failing, and he finally became unable to make himself intelligible to his customers. save by the use of his hands. When he attempts to utter a word he emits a series of gurgling and explosive sounds that are incomprehensible. His physicians give him little hope of relief, though his health otherwise is excellent.

SUICIDAL ASPHYXIATION.

Chicago, Oct. 31.—What seems to be, in the opinion of the police, a case of deliberate suicide and successful concealment of identity, was disclosed last night when the bodies of two men were discovered in a room in a hotel on South Canal street. They had been asphyxiated. The gas jet was found turned on full head in the room and the bodies lay side by side on the bed, fully dressed. The bodies were taken to the morgue. They presented the appearance of laborers.

INDIANA ROADS.

Governor Mount, who is preparing an elaborate statement for the Paris exhibition, demonstrating the progress made in providing good roads for the country population, says that the state of Indiana has 50,000 miles of graded and graveled highways, an average of 560 miles to each of its ninety-two counties. We have 8,683 miles of pike which are comparable with the best roads of France, where the roads are said to excel those of any other country on the globe. Only 208 of the excellent roads are owned by corporations maintaining toll gates. The latter have been abolished, as the roads have been improved by the county and state. We in this county can truthfully boast of the excellent condition of our highways, and the improvement goes steadily on. It is not many years since it was difficult in the winter season to get along many of our roads in the winter and spring, but it is different and better now. There is scarcely a strip of road in even the obscure corners that is not passable at all seasons.

NORTHERN INDIANA NOTES.

The Rev. E. E. Campbell, who recently resigned the pastorate of the Evangelical church at Corunna, will go into temperance work.

William Shumaker, colored, near Union City, is dead. He owned 640 acres of fine farming land, accumulated by his own industry.

The diphtheria quarantine which has been in force at Crown Point for the past twenty days, was raised yesterday. Four deaths occurred out of thirteen cases.

As a result of a levy on personal belongings of Nickum, the light man, there was a sale at auction at Logansport Saturday afternoon, in satisfaction of an execution. The property seized upon was largely garden implements, and brought but little money.

Henry Unger, indicted for burning John Hood's barn, near Mexico, has been acquitted by a Miami county jury. Unger is a dairyman at Logansport, and he lost the property by mortgage to Hood. The state attempted to show that revenge caused the fire.

During the recent meeting of the Northern Indiana School Superintendents' club at Elkhart, the new geographies and readers were generally commended. A commercial course and a manual school in connection with the high school was not approved, except where both could be given as much attention as other branches. Professor Sanders, of Bensenville, and Professor Wood, of Laporte, were admitted to membership.

PITHY STATEMENT

PELLENS AND POLSTER GIVE AN APT ILLUSTRATION.

THEIR VIEWS ON VINOL
WORTH LEARNING.

This is the Preparation That is Being Much Talked About.

A reporter asked Mr. A. Polster, of the well known firm of Pellens & Polster, the same question that hundreds have asked him in the last few days. "Just tell me, precisely, please, why Vinol is better than cod liver oil."

Mr. Polster replied in his genial way, "You have given me a rather difficult task. I can explain to you in a few minutes the advantages of Vinol, but to do it in a half dozen words would hardly be possible. Perhaps I can illustrate its value, however, in a brief manner. Suppose you had never seen a hen's egg. A man who knew of them should tell you to eat three every day. I do not say that you would, mind you, but I am inclined to believe at the start you would make an heroic effort to get away with the whole thing, shell and all. The meat of the egg would be what you needed, the shell rather superfluous. In fact, as a matter of nourishment not quite the thing for your stomach.

There you are with cod liver oil. In it you have a medicine, or rather in the liver of a live cod there is a medicine known to be valuable for certain forms of wasting disease, a great reconstructor. Doctors have administered it for years. They were like the man who had never seen an egg before. They gave it to their patients just as they found it, shell and all. Yes, that is exactly it. The grease was useless and as bad for the stomach, almost, as would have been the shell of the egg. The kernel, or the meat of the remedy, the vital principles that they were after, were contained in it. Science has stepped in and done exactly what the man with the egg might have done—found a way to separate the healthful interior from the worthless husk.

Now we have the actual medical principles of the cod's liver. We have thrown away the useless encumbrances that formerly enshrouded it, namely, the objectionable fat. We have taken this extract, placed it in a delicious table wine, and there you are. Patients who have needed cod liver oil and could not take it have no trouble in taking Vinol. Why, you could enjoy drinking it yourself, as pleasant is it, if I did not tell you it was anything but a mild table wine. If you needed it, however, for a medicine, you would soon find it to be something different. The medicinal properties of the cod's liver heal damage done by diseases that are of a wasting nature, and the same principles give strength to the weakened digestion and enables the poor sufferer's worn out stomach to digest and obtain nutriment from everyday food. These same principles are also active disease germ annihilators.

Yes, I am glad to have you come any time that you care to learn anything more about Vinol. It has already proved itself to be a winner.

REAR SARGE AT ANCHOR.

It is a significant fact, too, that England has just laid down the keels of some new battleships which are intended to be a match not only for the Kearsarge, but for the Maine and Missouri, which are now in course of construction in American shipyards.

England has just discovered that she has been making a mistake in the construction of her biggest battleships. They draw too much water. Some of them require 30 feet. American builders have avoided this mistake. The new Kearsarge draws but 23 feet 6 inches, and the Maine and Missouri will have a like draft. The new British battleships will be built with a view of decreasing the draft without diminishing the amount of armor or armament.

The new batch of battleships which England is about to build as an offset to the Kearsarge, Maine and Missouri will be designed to carry the heaviest armor and the biggest guns on the lightest possible draft.

The enormous draft of the majority of England's war vessels precludes to a great extent the use of those ships in American waters. With the exception of three or four ports on the Atlantic coast—and then only at high water—and two ports on the Pacific coast, England's leviathans are effectually barred from entering United States waters.

The British admiralty officials now claim that their new battleships will draw less water than any similar ships afloat, and that in point of speed and battery power the new craft will excel any vessels in existence or in process of construction anywhere.

In the new British battleship the designs, it is said, first call for a hull proper with very pronounced sloping sides. Around this hull will be placed after turrets are four 13 inch guns, and in the superimposed turrets above are four 8 inch guns. The four guns of either of these turrets may be concentrated on a single target and fired simultaneously by one man. Then look out for trouble for the enemy. The force of the shock of this mighty discharge would send one of the 35,890 pound howitzers of the battleship flying overboard if it happened to be on the deck near the turrets in the line of fire.

In the matter of protection the Kearsarge is well equipped. Along the water line there is a side armor belt of a maximum thickness of 16½ inches, with a mean depth of 7½ feet, so disposed in reference to the load line that the vessel, with 410 tons of coal on board, has 3½ feet of this belt armor above water and with 1,210 tons of coal on board has two feet above the load line.

In addition to the armor belts, conferrins filled with compressed fire-proofed American corn pith cellulose have been worked the entire length of the vessel in the region of the water line.

As to speed, the Kearsarge has just shown what she can do under medium forced draft. It is said that the new English battleships are expected to show a speed of nearly 18 knots. It must be remembered, however, that England and all other foreign naval powers make the speed tests of new warships under full forced draft and the most favorable conditions.

On paper our battleships may seem slower than those of England. The Oregon was supposed to be several knots slower than the ships of Cervara's squadron, yet the Spanish ships were readily overhauled in that memorable race out of Santiago harbor.

This is the present condition of the battleship building contest. We began with a big handicap, but we have been improving wonderfully of late. Now we think we can build just as good ships as our dear friend John Bull, if not a little better.

How to Cook Sheep's Heart.

Sheep's heart with tomatoes makes a very delicious dish. Clean the heart in the usual way. Make a stuffing for it of equal parts of tomato pulp and bread crumbs seasoned with a little chopped onion, pepper and salt. Then fill in the cavity with the stuffing, sew it up and stew till tender. Serve with thick brown gravy. Scatter chopped parsley over and garnish with two or three whole baked tomatoes.

A vessel's draft is lessened when the beam is increased. In their new design the British architects have first built a vessel broader according to

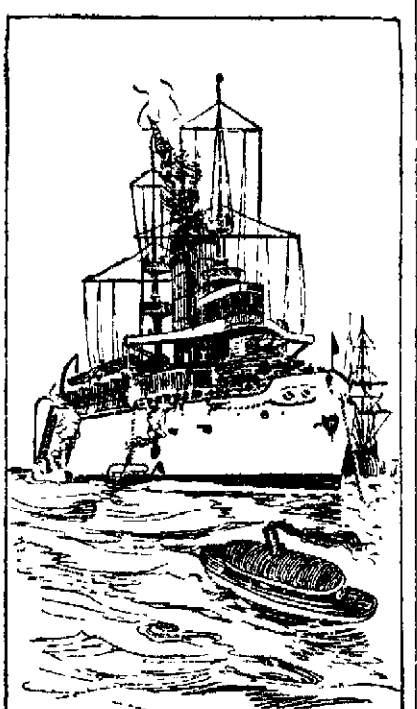

A BATTLESHIP RIVALRY.

BY LIEUTENANT H. R. GAHAN.

In spite of the very cordial official relations now existing between Uncle Sam and John Bull, the rivalry between their respective naval establishments is just as sharp as ever.

The splendid record made by our navy in the Spanish war and the impetus given to the building of a newer and greater navy as a consequence have alarmed the British admiralty. The English see that if Britain is to continue to rule the wave they must keep pace with us or we shall forge to the front.

The most interesting comparison is to be made by putting the Kearsarge, our newest battleship, side by side with the best that England can show. The mightiest of England's battleships do not excel the ship which we have built to replace the gallant old craft that laid her bones on Roncador five years ago.

It is a significant fact, too, that England has just laid down the keels of some new battleships which are intended to be a match not only for the Kearsarge, but for the Maine and Missouri, which are now in course of construction in American shipyards.

This is the present condition of the battleship building contest. We began with a big handicap, but we have been improving wonderfully of late. Now we think we can build just as good ships as our dear friend John Bull, if not a little better.

How to Cook Sheep's Heart.

Sheep's heart with tomatoes makes a very delicious dish. Clean the heart in the usual way. Make a stuffing for it of equal parts of tomato pulp and bread crumbs seasoned with a little chopped onion, pepper and salt. Then fill in the cavity with the stuffing, sew it up and stew till tender. Serve with thick brown gravy. Scatter chopped parsley over and garnish with two or three whole baked tomatoes.

standard rules, though with perhaps more slope to the sides than would be the case were no outside hull provided. The steadiness of the ship has been increased by building a jog in the underwater hull on each side, which serves the same purpose as bilge keels. A bilge keel, it should be known, acts as a steady power much the same as a balance pole does for the tight rope walker.

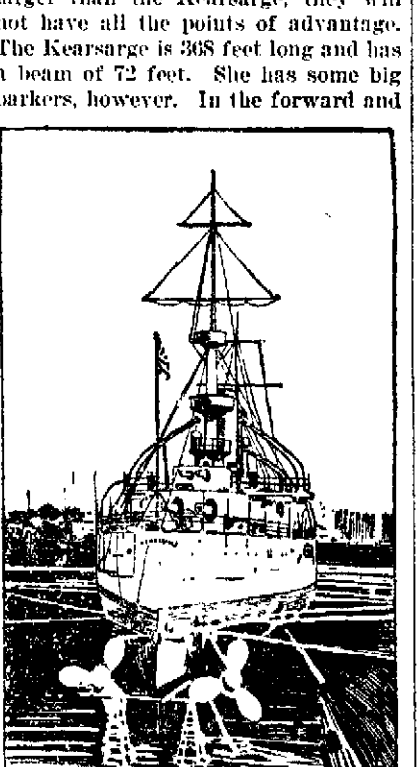

In adopting the "break in the hull" feature the English designers have appropriated an essentially American idea. It was Edisson, the inventor of the Monitor, who originally incorporated a projecting overhang to a hull in order to secure greater righting qualities.

Additional data regarding the new British battleships give the length of each craft as 425 feet, beam 85 feet and draft 23 feet. The displacement will be about 13,000 tons. The engines, it is said, will develop about 18,000 horsepower.

The reported horsepower development planned for the new British ships is a great advance on the power generally planned for battleships. The engines of the new Maine are calculated to develop 16,000 horsepower, or 6,000 horsepower more than the engines of the Indiana, Massachusetts and Oregon type ships.

The cofferdam arrangement of the new British ships, it is understood, will be constructed with special reference to strength. The armor will be placed on the outer skin, and this when backed at the water line vicinity with corn pith serves to close any opening occasioned by the entrance of a shot. This is effected through the medium of the expansive properties of the corn pith matter when brought in contact with water.

Although these battleships will be larger than the Kearsarge, they will not have all the points of advantage. The Kearsarge is 308 feet long and has a beam of 72 feet. She has some big barbers, however. In the forward and after turrets are four 13 inch guns, and in the superimposed turrets above are four 8 inch guns. The four guns of either of these turrets may be concentrated on a single target and fired simultaneously by one man. Then look out for trouble for the enemy. The force of the shock of this mighty discharge would send one of the 35,890 pound howitzers of the battleship flying overboard if it happened to be on the deck near the turrets in the line of fire.

In the matter of protection the Kearsarge is well equipped. Along the water line there is a side armor belt of a maximum thickness of 16½ inches, with a mean depth of 7½ feet, so disposed in reference to the load line that the vessel, with 410 tons of coal on board, has 3½ feet of this belt armor above water and with 1,210 tons of coal on board has two feet above the load line.

In addition to the armor belts, conferrins filled with compressed fire-proofed American corn pith cellulose have been worked the entire length of the vessel in the region of the water line.

As to speed, the Kearsarge has just shown what she can do under medium forced draft. It is said that the new English battleships are expected to show a speed of nearly 18 knots. It must be remembered, however, that England and all other foreign naval powers make the speed tests of new warships under full forced draft and the most favorable conditions.

On paper our battleships may seem slower than those of England. The Oregon was supposed to be several knots slower than the ships of Cervara's squadron, yet the Spanish ships were readily overhauled in that memorable race out of Santiago harbor.

This is the present condition of the battleship building contest. We began with a big handicap, but we have been improving wonderfully of late. Now we think we can build just as good ships as our dear friend John Bull, if not a little better.

SOLDIERS EN ROUTE WEST

TRAVEL OVER THE NICKEL
PLATE AND THE WABASH.

News from Toledo is to the effect that the Detroit and Lima Northern road is soon to be taken out of the hands of a receiver and turned over to the owners. W. B. Strang and Charles N. Haskell, who are the chief stockholders and members of the board of directors, are now in Toledo for that purpose. It is understood that a combination between the Lima Northern and the Detroit and Toledo Shore line has been effected. The latter is now being rapidly completed into Toledo. A short time ago Messrs. Haskell and Strang individually bought the St. Mary's division of the Lima Northern road and this places the company practically out of debt.

FIREMAN INJURED.

G. C. Buichard, a fireman on the Pittsburgh road, was brought here on passenger train No. 15 early this morning, suffering from slight concussion of the brain. Mr. Buichard was injured at Robinson, Ohio, about midnight last night, while firing a freight engine. A big chunk of coal rolled off the top of the pile in the tender just as he stooped to pick up a scoopful, and struck him on the head. He was rendered unconscious, and in that condition was removed from the cab and held at Robinson until the passenger train arrived, when he was placed aboard and brought home. It is thought he will be all right in a few days.

DIED AT ORVILLE.

John Welten, of the Pittsburgh shops, is in receipt of news of the death of his brother, Benjamin Welten, which occurred at Orville, Ohio, where the deceased had resided for a number of years. The cause of death was cancer of the stomach. Before the war of 1861, Benjamin Welten resided in this city and was employed in the sawmill of the Baker Brothers. He enlisted in Captain Hetler's company, 142d regiment, and served until the close of the war. Shortly after being mustered out he went to Orville, where he had lived ever since.

FELL FROM A WINDOW.

George Kronnemiller is confined to his home, 43 Taylor street, with injuries received this morning while at work at the Pittsburgh round house. He was washing the windows, when he fell from the sill of one of them and was badly bruised about the hips. Dr. George C. Stemen attended Mr. Kronnemiller.

BIGGER PAY ROLLS.

The month of October has been a very busy one at the Wabash shops and as a result the pay rolls will exceed those of the preceding month by $3,000. There has been a big increase in the size of the pay rolls at those shops within the past year, and the future promises greater improvements in that way.

HIS TITLE CHANGED.

Harry M. Huston has received the title of night assistant trainmaster of the Pittsburgh. For several months he has been performing the duties of that office, but under another title, and the only change is in the name. Mr. Huston is one of the rising railway men of Fort Wayne and The Sentinel expects to chronicle ere long his promotion to a much more important position than he now occupies.

ORE HANDLING MACHINE.

A machine that will unload the largest freighters on the lakes in seven hours, and with the aid of only six men, has just been put in operation at Ashtabula, Ohio, at the docks where the vessels engaged in the ore traffic unload. As soon as the machines can be built they will be placed at all docks where ore and coal are handled extensively and they will cause a revolution in that line. A dispatch to the Pittsburgh Dispatch from Ashtabula thus describes these wonderful machines: "This machine weighs 400 tons, is fifty-five feet high and requires six men to operate it. The clam-shell bucket, which is the interesting and important part of the machine, dips out ten tons of ore at each lift. The clam-shell is attached to a revolving tending leg. The bucket is lowered part way into the vessel's hold. The 'clam-shell' is then opened and it is lowered again until it comes into contact with the ore. When it opens it has a spread of about nineteen feet. The bucket is closed by hydraulic power and thus grasps ten tons of ore. The queer shaped bucket is then raised again, opens and the ore is dropped either into cars standing upon the dock tracks or into a trolley car which will convey it to the dock piles. The machine is so arranged that the bucket can be swung around lengthwise of the boat, in which case it reaches about nine feet from the edge of the hatch in either direction, and will take out from 90 to 95 per cent of the ore cargo. The balance of the ore is shoveled by hand within reach of the scoop and taken out by the same method."

A MOGUL'S FAST RUN.

In designing the mogul engine more attention was paid to hauling power than to speed, yet these engines are capable of making good time when occasion requires it. Mogul No. 498, on the New York Central, hauled out train No. 11, the Southwestern limited, made up of two mail cars, five passenger coaches and nine Wagner cars, sixteen cars in all. The total weight of the train was 1,832,000 pounds, or 916 tons, and the length of the train, including the engine, was 1,212 feet, or nearly a quarter of a mile. This engine made the running time of the train between New York and Albany, 143 miles, in three hours and fifteen minutes.

RAILWAY RUNS THE TOWN.

It is announced that the Great Northern has won its fight to prevent the incorporation of the town of Hilliard, near Spokane. The contest was rather unique in some particulars. Hilliard is a town established and owned by the company. The residents are to a considerable extent employees of the Great Northern shops. The sale of liquor has been rigidly forbidden. However, the outside population which has floated in clamored for saloons, which the better element and the railroad opposed. In order to secure entry for the saloons an attempt to incorporate the town was made, but failed, and the railroad will continue to run the town without saloons.

A TRAVELING CONDUCTOR.

The Erie railroad has created a new office, that of instructor of trainmen, and has appointed E. B. Hardenbergh to the position. He is expected to travel all over the line and instruct the trainmen verbally on the intended meaning of the rules and orders sent out by the general officers of the road. He will visit terminals and personally examine conductors, freight and passenger, as to their understanding of the rules and orders concerning the collection of tickets, their forms and destinations, cash fare regulations and every question regarding the relations between the public and the company. The instructor will also hold schools wherever possible.

GOES BACK TO NICKEL PLATE.

The Indianapolis Journal says that B. S. Snyder, master mechanic of the Columbus, Sandusky and Hocking road, is to return to the Nickel Plate upon his retirement from his present position, which occurs tomorrow. Mr. Snyder was the general foreman of the Nickel Plate shops at Conneaut, Ohio, before he went to the Columbus, Sandusky and Hocking. It is probable that he will resume that office. John Cullinan, formerly master mechanic of the Norfolk and Western shops at Portsmouth, is to succeed Mr. Snyder on the Columbus, Sandusky and Hocking.

BEYERS' SUCCESSOR.

Louis Haas, who has succeeded W. H. Beyers as engineer of maintenance of way of the eastern division of the Pittsburgh, passed through the city last night, en route to New Castle, to assume his official duties tomorrow. Mr. Beyers, as the reader will remember, has been transferred to the Akron division of the system in a more responsible position than he occupied on the Pittsburgh division.

PERPETUAL ICE-MAKER.

Perpetual motion, or something very near it, has been invented by a Brooklyn man, according to his own assertion. He has produced a machine which he says will automatically furnish motive power for steamships and trains, purify the air of hospitals, theaters and other buildings, make 1,800 pounds of ice an hour and give the crew of the Holland submarine boat enough air to enable them to remain under water for two years. The machine looks like an ordinary refrigerator, but there are many complicated coils of pipe inside, together with a steel fan, and six separate chambers half filled with water. To start the machine to its full power it is necessary to load it with ninety pounds of ice. After that the contrivance does the rest automatically. In a few minutes the surrounding air can be reduced to a temperature of 50 degrees below zero, and inside the ice box it can be brought down to 200 below zero. The inventor says his machine will be a good thing for powder houses, where it is desirable that low temperature shall be maintained, and, in fact, there is no end to the usefulness of the contrivance where it is desirable to cool off things. He says it is the nearest thing to perpetual motion ever invented, because, when once it has been fed with enough ice to start it, it makes its own ice afterward indefinitely. He says it has nothing to do with the liquid air with which experiments have been conducted lately, but it is an original discovery that will revolutionize the steamship and railroad train of today. He has a working model of the invention at his workshop, and he has demonstrated that he can lower the temperature to an almost unbearable degree in a few moments. The machine has, so far, cost him $1,500, and he says it will easily run a 2,500-horse power marine engine.

MANNER OF KELLY'S DEATH.

A letter from Burleigh Currier states that William Kelly was adjusting some electrical apparatus, standing upon a chair for that purpose, and fell with his face resting against one wire and an arm across another, receiving a shock of 2,800 volts. Death was instantaneous. The remains are now en route to Austin, Texas, accompanied by Burton Kelly, a brother of the deceased. In his letter Mr. Currier stated that Mr. Kelly was a member of some benevolent and insurance order at Fort Wayne. He had forgotten what order.

THE WABASH PAYS DAMAGES.

The Wabash Railway company compromised suits in Justice Newell's court at Logansport last Saturday by paying into court $125 each to Ella and Elizabeth Friend, brought by their next friend, for damages suffered in being carried past their home and being compelled to walk back five miles, thereby from exposure contracting colds and causing their parents care, anxiety and physician's expenses. The parents were given $50 in addition for the trouble of nursing them. The girls are aged eleven and fourteen years and live at Burrows. They had come to Logansport on return tickets which the conductor took up when they were on their way home.

TWO SOLDIER TRAINS.

Nickel Plate train No. 5, due here at 1:55 a. m., was run in four sections this morning. The first section was the regular train with through westbound passengers. The second section was loaded with soldiers, en route west. They were turned over to the Chicago and Alton at Chicago. The third section was also loaded with soldiers and their camp equipment and it was turned over to the Wabash at New Haven and continued its western journey over that line. The fourth section carried emigrants, bound for the northwest.

INDUSTRIAL NOTES.

Blacksmith Peter Huntine, of the Bass works, is sick. G. Auer, a tinner, has taken a position in the Pittsburgh shops. Machinist J. H. Bending left yesterday for Newport, Pa., to erect a Bass engine in an oak extracting works. Freight officials of the all-rail lines are giving notice that lake navigation will close this year November 15.

Nickel Plate Engineer W. P. Morris has returned from Ohio, where he spent a week very pleasantly with old friends and relatives.

In the week ending October 28 there were transferred over the Belt road at Indianapolis 21,232 cars, the largest number on record.

Brakeman Benham, who had an extra local freight run out of Knox, Ind., has moved to this city and will take a through freight run.

Machinist E. E. Bird, a recent addition to the ranks of Fort Wayne's mechanics, has resigned a position held at the Wabash shops.

Engines 1,348 and 1,479 are out of the Wabash shops, after general repairs, and as soon as tested will be turned over to the Buffalo division for service.

Theodore Dobler, chief clerk in the Pittsburgh round house, has gone to Wisconsin in response to a telegram informing him of the serious illness of his mother.

John H. Welch, with a number of his workmen, left Monday evening for St. Louis, where they will put a new roof on the foundry in that city owned by J. H. Bass.

The Young Men's Christian association of Kentucky will, on February 15, hold its eighteenth annual state convention, and has arranged with M. E. Ingalls to address the convention on the day the Railroad branch holds its sessions. The convention will meet at Covington and will be in session four days.

The Chicago & Eastern Illinois will establish extensive yards at Dalton Junction, fourteen miles from Chicago. It will be made the northern terminal, and as now planned the track capacity will be 3,000 cars. Boilermaker Thomas Morris has been transferred from the Wabash shops in this city to those at Ashley, where he will probably remain permanently. He went up to that place this morning.

Samuel Rothrock, a construction man in the employ of the Fort Wayne Electric company, has returned from Mifflintown, Pa., where he was visiting his friends and relatives. He formerly resided in that city.

So far this year the tonnage of coal and coke of the Pennsylvania has amounted to 22,024,650 tons, against 18,949,537 tons in the corresponding period of 1898. This was coal and coke originating on the road proper.

J. A. Bursley, F. J. O'Brien, Patrick O'Neil, J. Boone, F. Scheffer, J. A. Wise, William Fettes and C. H. Smith are new names on the absentee lists at the Pittsburgh shops. With the exception of Mr. Smith all are sick.

On November 1 the Santa Fe will adopt the "piece work" system in its shops. Heretofore the men have been paid by the day. The Pennsylvania shops in this city are run upon the piece work system and apparently the method is satisfactory to the employees.

A rate war between the Chicago and Kansas City lines is imminent. There are five lines, the longest 520 miles, the shortest 458. Three of the lines can readily make the new fourteen-hour schedule between the two points, but two will find it difficult, and it is thought will now cut passenger rates.

Fireman Frank Willis, of the Nickel Plate, who went to Colorado six weeks ago in hope of receiving physical benefits from the healthful climate, returned yesterday and has reported for duty on the road. He was not disappointed in the object of his western visit, for he is much better physically than when he left for Colorado.

Col. R. G. Thompson, who was at St. Louis in the interest of the proposed Mexican tour mentioned in The Sentinel a few days ago, returned this morning. He will probably leave tomorrow evening for Mexico City to arrange the details of the tour. Mr. Thompson is receiving many inquiries concerning the tour and this leads him to believe that he is going to have no difficulty in getting up the party.

The raising of the Union station at Omaha, Neb., has been rendered necessary by the settlement of the foundations. It is built partly on made ground in a ravine, the soil being clay, and it is supposed that the soil was not sufficiently tested or that the foundations were not given sufficient proportions. The amount of settlement was from 4 1/2 to 9 inches. The building was raised from the foundation walls by jackscrews, and the foundations were then strengthened by concrete reinforcing walls and steel beams.

GENUINE MOSAICS

are pictures or decorations in colored stone used in floor and wall decoration for porches, verandas, vestibules, porticoes, hallways, bathrooms, lavatories, etc., etc. They never wear out or fade. There are countless inferior imitations offered by unskilled mechanics, but they do not wear and give the satisfaction of the old time article.

THE WEATHER.

Chicago, Oct. 31.—Forecast for Indiana—General fair tonight and Wednesday; winds shifting to brisk northerly.

LOCAL LINES.

Ralph Bond has returned from a visit in Chicago.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Worden leave this evening for New York city.

Mrs. L. P. Drayer has resigned as organist in the Trinity Episcopal church.

Roy Johns is confined to his home with an injured knee, the result of a fall from a horse.

Mrs. Frank Hough leaves for Adrian, Mich., tomorrow, after an extended visit with friends in the city.

The Baptist Young People's union will give a Halloween entertainment in the parlors of the church this evening.

The high school class of 1896 today presented Prof. C. T. Lane with a huge bunch of chrysanthemums in honor of his birthday anniversary.

Mrs. Ridenour, of 155 Lafayette street, will entertain the Woman's Foreign Missionary society of the Berry Street M. E. church Thursday afternoon from 3 to 5.

The Young Bob o' Link club has been reorganized and will give weekly dances during the winter at their club rooms, No. 207 Calhoun street. The officers are: Otto Pomper, president; Fred Bushor, vice-president; Frank Schramm, secretary; Joe Schramm, treasurer.

A large number of delegates from this city are at Hammond, Ind., attending the convention of the teachers of the Lutheran schools of northern Indiana. The sessions will continue until Friday and matters of business in connection with the school, as well as methods of teaching, will be discussed. Papers will be read by prominent professors and teachers on various subjects.

West Berry street presented an animated appearance Monday evening and was very much like a street in Chicago would look in the evening. There was a large crowd out, including pedestrians and wheelmen, and the cause of the excitement was the appearance of two automobiles, which buzzed up and down the street for over an hour. Harry Meyer had his new machine out for a trial spin and was testing its speed. The two vehicles made a speed of about fourteen miles an hour.

A very pleasant masquerade surprise party was tendered Mrs. F. Carray at her home, at 75 John street, Saturday evening in honor of her forty-ninth birthday. The party was a complete surprise to Mrs. Carray, but she proved an admirable hostess. Several of the costumes worn by those present were very fine, while others were ridiculous in the extreme. Clowns talked to queens, while "Topsy" waltzed with a king. The evening was pleasantly spent in music, dancing and conversation. At 11:30 an elegant luncheon was served, after which all departed for their homes after wishing Mrs. Carray many more pleasant birthdays.

A CARD.
Last spring the Music House of George Jacobs advertised that it would pay more attention to Sheet Music and small Musical Instruments. One has only to step in to his store rooms, No. 98 Calhoun street and they will at once perceive that this has been done.

Mr. Jacobs today has the most complete line of Music and Musical Goods of any retail store in northern Indiana. He has just received a large import order of Violins, fine Strings, Violin Bows, and other musical goods, such as it will pay to import. In Mandolins and Guitars he handles the Maurer, Washburn, Imperial, and is sole agent for the celebrated "Walden." In Music he has added the complete Schirmer Library, which contains Methods, Studies, Vocal and Instrumental Music. He also has contracts with all the leading publishing houses to furnish him all the latest Music as soon as it is printed, popular and standard.

Having received this large order from one of the greatest Musical Instrument firms of Europe, and dealing direct with the publishers, thereby saving all middle profits, he is able to supply his customers with the best goods at the least money, and thus has placed within the reach of the Musician, Teacher and Student the same facilities offered in larger cities.

As a Music House would hardly be complete without Pianos, he has only to mention that he carries such well-known makes as the WEBER, CHICKERING, KRANICH & BACH, FISCHER, WHEELLOCK, CROWN, and others—Pianos that stand among the best in the world.
Mr. Jacobs is one of the oldest dealers in the city and his musical ability and years of experience has enabled him to select the very best. He kindly solicits a visit to his store, which will convince you of the fact, as above stated.

A STAGGERING BLOW.

Boers Give General White a Terrible Reverse, Taking Two Thousand Prisoners of War.

GLOOMS REIGNS IN GREAT BRITAIN.

London, Oct. 31.—The war office has received a dispatch from General White, commanding the British forces at Ladysmith, reporting that the Royal Irish fusiliers, No. 10 mountain battery and the Gloucestershire regiment were surrounded in the hills by the Boers and, after losing heavily, were obliged to capitulate.

General White adds that the casualties have not yet been ascertained.

GENERAL WHITE'S REPORT.

London, Oct. 31.—The following is the text of General White's dispatch to the war office:

"Ladysmith, Oct. 30.—10:35 p. m.—I have to report a disaster to the column sent by me to take a position on a hill to guard the left flank of the troops. In these operations today the Royal Irish fusiliers, No. 10 mountain battery and the Gloucestershire regiment were surrounded in the hills, and after losing heavily, had to capitulate.

"The casualties have not yet been ascertained.

"A man of the fusiliers, employed as a hospital orderly, came in under a flag of truce with a letter from the survivors of the column, who asked for assistance to bury the dead.

"I fear there is no doubt of the truth of the report.

OFFICERS CAPTURED.

General White, in a subsequent dispatch, says:

"The following is a list of the officers taken prisoners today:

"Staff—Major Adye.

"Irish Fusiliers—Colonel Carleton, Major Munn, Major Kincaide, Captain Burrow, Captain Rice, Captain Silver, Captain Heard, Lieutenant Southey, Lieutenant Phillips, Lieutenant McGregor, Lieutenant Holmes, Lieutenant Kelly, Lieutenant Dooner, Lieutenant Keishah, Lieutenant Kinahan, Lieutenant Jendwine, Chaplain Matthew.

"Of the above Captains Rice and Silver and Lieutenant Dooner were wounded.

"Gloucestershire Regiment—Major Humphrey, Major Capel-Cure, Major Wallace, Captain Duncan, Captain Conner, Lieutenant Bryant, Lieutenant Nisbet, Lieutenant Ingham, Lieutenant Davy, Lieutenant Knox, Lieutenant Tompe, Lieutenant Radice, Lieutenant Brull, Lieutenant Hill, Lieutenant Short, Lieutenant Smith, Lieutenant Kinsie, Lieutenant Beasley, Lieutenant Gray.

"Of the above Captains Duncan and Conner were wounded.

"Royal Artillery—Major Bryant.

"Mounted Battery—Lieutenant Wheeler, Lieutenant Nugent, Lieutenant Moore, Lieutenant Webb."

A STAGGERING BLOW.

London, Oct. 31.—While minor reverses were not wholly unexpected, nothing like the staggering blow General Joubert delivered to General White's forces was anticipated. The full extent of the disaster is not yet acknowledged, if it is known, at the war office. The loss in effect must be most appalling to a general who is practically surrounded.

Two of the finest British regiments and a mule battery taken from Ladysmith weakens it about a fifth of its total strength and alters the whole situation very materially in favor of the Boers, who have again shown themselves stern fighters and military strategists of no mean kind.

The disaster cost the British from 1,000 to 2,000 men and six seven-pound screw guns, and, as the Boer artillery is already stronger than imagined, the capture of these guns will be a great help to the Boers.

Further news must be awaited before it is attempted to fix the blame where it belongs.

General White manfully accepts all the responsibility for the disaster, which, apparently, was at least due to the stopping of the mules with the guns.

From the list it will be seen that forty-two officers were made prisoners, besides a newspaper correspondent, J. Hyde.

The interest in the news will be universal, pervading all classes and conditions of London's populace. The newspaper extras were eagerly read in business houses, on the streets and by women in their carriages.

Then there was rush to the war office, which by noon was surrounded by private carriages and hansom cabs, while many of the humbler class of people were on foot, all waiting and watching for the names they held dear.

GLOOM AND SORROW.

Never was the old saw, "Bad news travels quickly," better exemplified here than today. By noon gloom and bitter sorrow prevailed throughout the British metropolis. At the government offices no effort was made to conceal the feeling of dismay prevailing.

One official said to a representative of the Associated Press:

"It is inexplicable and I am sorry to say that its moral effect is incalculable. We have lost heavily in many wars and have regiments almost wiped out, but to have regiments captured, and by the Boers, it is terrible."

An official of the war office said to a representative of the Associated Press:

"The disaster is more likely due to the craze of our younger officers to distinguish themselves, obtain mention in the despatches and earn the Victoria cross than to the fault of that splendid Indian veteran, General White, in spite of his avowal."

As the day wore on the crowd around the war office swelled to enormous proportions and at Gloucester, the home of many of those engaged, the wildest excitement prevailed.

The special editions of the local newspapers were speedily exhausted and the same thing occurred at Bristol and other towns in that county.

Coming so soon after the engagement at Relkfontein, where the Gloucestershires suffered heavily, it brought the keenest sorrow to households all over the county whose name the regiment bears.

The disaster had an immediate effect upon the stock exchange here, where consols fell 1/4. South African securities dropped heavily, and lines falling 2 points. Rio Tinto fell 1/4.

NEWSPAPER COMMENT.

The afternoon newspapers made only brief editorial comments on the news from Ladysmith, but their headlines voiced the feelings of general sorrow. The tone of the editorials can be summed up in the following statement of the St. James Gazette:

"It is evident that the patriotism and fortitude of the nation are to be tested in real earnest by these operations of ours in Natal against great odds. General White has a difficult task set him and we must take the disaster with the dogged coolness which Britons know how to display. We shall await the final result without apprehension."

The Globe calls upon the British empire to receive this "bitter and unpalatable dispatch with the spirit of a great nation that relies upon its invincible reserves of strength."

A BATTLE IN PROGRESS.

Cape Town, Oct. 31.—3:15 p. m.—The South African News publishes the following dispatch:

"Ladysmith, Oct. 31.—A battle is proceeding at the foot of Umbanbana, a few miles from Ladysmith. Several shells have dropped into the town."

SEIGE OF KIMBERLEY.

Cape Town, Oct. 31.—It is reported from Barkley-West that the Boers are constructing forts around Kimberley for the purpose of shelling the town.

SECOND ARMY CORPS CALLED.

London, Oct. 31.—It is learned by the Associated Press that the war office has ordered a second army corps to be in readiness to be called out.

The military officials have not yet decided whether the consummation of the plan will be necessary, but (Continued on Fifth Page.)

AN ENVOY NAMED.

AGUINALDO WANTS A MAN IN WASHINGTON.

SPANIARD TENDERED POST

DR. REGIDORE JURADO, OF LONDON, SOLICITED.

WOULD NOT BE RECOGNIZED

JURADO HAS A MISSION OVER THIS SIDE.

London, Oct. 31.—Dr. Regidore Jurado, chairman of the Spanish chamber of commerce in this city, yesterday evening received a telegram sent by Senor Fierro, president of the so-called Filipino cabinet, from Manila as follows:

"I have been instructed by Aguinaldo to ask you to accept the post of representative of the Filipino government in Washington if you are going to America for any other purpose."

Mr. Jurado says he will not accept the official position. He goes to the United States in the interest of the Filipino clergy who are anxious to secure the same protection that Major General Otis has granted to the Spanish clergy.

If he accepted an official position in Washington, it is claimed the authorities would not recognize him.

BIG FIRE AT SING SING.

New York, Oct. 31.—The new administration building at Sing Sing prison, built by convict labor under Warden Sage and considered to have been one of the handsomest structures of the kind in the country, was half destroyed by fire by dawn today. The loss is about $50,000, uninsured.

The fire started at 2:30 a. m. in the bakery and kitchen. The bakery is close to the administration building, a brick structure 600 feet long and four stories high. The first floor is used as a mess room. The second floor was principally used for a Protestant and Roman Catholic chapel.

The top floor was the prison hospital. Twenty-eight patients were in the hospital when the fire broke out.

They were all quickly moved out without disorder to the hospital building and temporarily provided for there. The fire obtained headway in the administration building and before the fire apparatus of Sing Sing and nearby towns could be brought into action, and was only brought under control after a hard four-hours fight. The roof of the administration building fell in. The cause of the fire is unexplained.

MR. BRYAN IS CONFIDENT.

Kearney, Neb., Oct. 31.—William Jennings Bryan began the last week of his tour of the state yesterday, and between sunrise and sunset delivered seven set speeches and six impromptu talks. The people are very enthusiastic. Mr. Bryan was in fine form and to all remarks touching the situation he replied that it was growing more encouraging daily. The fusion leaders, with the exception of Mr. Bryan, admit the republicans have made some gains, but they insist their gains are not sufficient to effect the result and that the state will go for fusion from 5,000 to 8,000, the state chairman of the fusion forces placing it at 15,000. Mr. Bryan insists that nothing less than an accident can defeat the fusion forces.

MINISTERS FIGHT ROBERTS.

Indianapolis, Oct. 31.—The Indianapolis Ministers' association has adopted resolutions calling upon Senators Fairbanks and Beveridge and Congressman Overstreet to do all in their power to secure the expulsion of Congressman Roberts, of Utah, and urge a constitutional amendment defining legal marriage as monogamic and making any polygamist ineligible to vote or hold office. Methodist ministerial associations throughout the country will be asked to adopt similar resolutions.

BRYAN WILL BE NOMINEE.

Norfolk, Va., Oct. 31.—Arthur Sewall, of Bath, Me., former democratic candidate for vice president, has arrived from Beaufort, N. C., where he has been to look after his interests in the derelict schooner Carrie A. Lane. In an interview he expressed himself as being sure that Mr. Bryan would be renominated next year, but when asked if he would accept a renomination for vice president he preferred not to express himself. He said that the money question would be in the democratic platform as before, but he was non-committal as to what prominence it would have.

OLD BANK CHANGES ITS NAME.

Auburn, Ind., Oct. 31.—The First National bank of this city, one of the oldest banks in northern Indiana, will be known hereafter as the McClellan bank. It will have the same capital and a surplus of $80,000. Its directors are the C. A. O. McClellan estate, Charles McClellan, D. A. Garwood and Isaac Hayne. At the meeting of the directors Charles McClellan was elected president and Claude A. Benedict cashier. The business of the bank is in a prosperous condition.

SCORNO TO TAKE PENNIES

BURGLAR AFTER BIG STAKES LEAVES IN DISGUST.

Forced an Entrance Into Gilmar-tin's Lumber Office and Declined to Take Twelve Cents.

Somewhere in Fort Wayne last night was a very much disgusted burglar. He was after big stakes, and declined to lower his professional dignity sufficiently to steal twelve pennies which represented the total cash within his reach, and so left the place in disgust.

Sometime during the night the burglar forced an entrance into the office of Edward Gilmartin's lumber yards on Holman street by smashing in a rear window. The watchman in the lumber yards heard no noise and the cracksman evidently operated with the ease of a professional. The office shows evidence of having been rummaged through, but Mr. Gilmartin says nothing is missing. Twelve pennies which were in the cash drawer were not molested, and if the safe was tampered with, no damage was done. Mr. Gilmartin says if the next nocturnal visitor will apprise him of his intention to visit the place, he will tender him a key in order that it may not be necessary to break the glass to gain an entrance.

RECRUITING IS ENDED.

The flag was hauled down from above the Fort Wayne recruiting office this morning, and the station has gone out of existence. Lieutenant Rowell came from Indianapolis to close the station, and two young men who had applied for enlistment failed to come up to the physical requirements. The business affairs of the office are being closed up today, and Sergeant James A. Stewart, who has been in charge of the office, leaves tomorrow for Indianapolis to resume his duties in the recruiting service there.

TWO WOMEN MURDERED.

Pittsfield, Mass., Oct. 31.—A stage driver who arrived here today from Hancock, a small place near the western border of the state, brought news of a double murder which occurred half a mile from that village yesterday. Mrs. Rhoda Horton and her daughter, Eliza Jane Horton, were the victims, and the alleged murderer is George Herman, a farm hand. The tragedy occurred at the Horton farm house. Both women were shot and Herman attempted to end his own life in the same way. He is so badly wounded that his recovery is doubtful.

MR. ROBERT IMPROVED.

New York, Oct. 31.—At 1 o'clock this afternoon Mr. Robert was resting quietly. No change for the worse is anticipated this afternoon or evening. Mr. Robert awoke at 9 o'clock refreshed and feeling much stronger than yesterday. His pulse was firmer and he took considerable nourishment. He sat upon the edge of the bed and chatted with Mrs. Hobart and read the papers, showing as much interest in what was going on about him as when well. The doctor said that he was improving, although in a weak and critical condition.

ANNUAL MISSION FEAST.

The yearly mission feast of St. John's Reformed church will be held next Sunday, and Rev. John Winter, of Huntington, will preach at both morning and evening services.

The Christian Endeavor of Plymouth church will give a Halloween social at the church parlors this evening.

PANIC IN A BOAT.

NEW YORK FERRY CRAFT IS SENT TO BOTTOM.

BUT ONE LIFE WAS LOST

WAS PENNSYLVANIA ROAD'S FERRYBOAT.

WAS SUNK IN A COLLISION

CREW OF BOAT WORKED LIKE HEROES TO SAVE LIFE.

New York, Oct. 31.—The Pennsylvania Railway company's ferryboat Chicago, plying between Cortlandt street, this city, and the Pennsylvania railway depot in Jersey City, was cut down by the Savannah line steamship City of Augusta about 1 o'clock this morning as the ferryboat was crossing to the east side of the North river. Within a few minutes of the collision, and before the Chicago could make her slip, she sunk in seventy-five feet of water. It is not definitely known how many passengers were on board the Chicago at the time of the disaster, but the number is variously estimated at from 50 to 100.

ONE MAN DEAD.

One man, John Bryson, is known to have been drowned. His body was recovered. Fireman Vroom, of the Chicago, is missing, and it is thought to have been caught in the stake hold. It is not improbable that other lives were lost.

When the Chicago left Jersey City at 12:44 a. m. Captain William Durham was in the forward pilot house directing the boat personally and one of his deck hands was at the wheel. The night was perfectly clear. The tide was ebbing fast and Captain Durham on this account was obliged to keep his boat headed well up stream.

As he neared the New York shore he put his helm over to head into the ship and as the Chicago swung around the captain caught sight of the City of Augusta heading down on him. She was coming up stream and very close.

Captain Durham gave two blasts of his whistle to signify his intention to pass to starboard and putting his helm apart he rang the signal to go ahead at full speed.

The City of Augusta, Captain Durham says, did not reply to the signal, but kept right in her course. A moment later the City of Augusta rammed the Chicago just abaft her paddle wheel on the starboard side.

A WILD SCRAMBLE.

A scene of wild excitement followed. The passengers, most of whom had risen to go to the forward end of the ferryboat to be prepared to leave as she reached her slip, made a wild scramble for life preservers.

Fortunately there were few women aboard—not more than five or six—and at first they were shoved to the rear. George Blumenstock and George Ray, truckmen who were coming over to the city with their loads of milk, jumped into the middle of the struggling mass and yelled "Hands off! The women first! Save the women!"

A score of men took up the shout and in a trice the women were fitted with life preservers. The small number of passengers did not exhaust the supply of life preservers, but many in their excitement did not stop to put them on, but leaped overboard unprovided.

It is feared that some such persons must have gone down in the chilly waters before help came.

BRAVERY OF DECK HANDS.

The deck hands displayed commendable courage. Captain Durham and Chief Engineer Penfield set splendid examples. Captain Durham was the last man to leave his boat. He kept up a constant call for help with his whistle and when he finally left he tied the whistle to keep up the sound and when the Chicago finally went down she did it with her whistle blowing. Engineer Penfield kept his hand on the throttle until the water put out his fires and he had scarce time to run on deck and jump overboard when the boat went down.

"Don't get excited, she won't sink," the deck hands cried as they ran among the passengers, "plenty of time."

They managed to reassure the majority of the passengers.

A SECOND PANIC.

Captain Durham saw the Chicago was doomed and he gave the command for all hands to go on the upper deck. This created a new panic and men and women by the dozen leaped overboard and struggled to get away from the vortex when it came.

The City of Augusta found herself

unable for a few moments to get out of the hole she had made. Her anchor chains were entangled in the splinters and despite her reversed engines she was unable at first to do more than pull the Chicago down stream with her. The City of Augusta's nose was clear into the Chicago's hull. She finally managed to get clear and backed away. No effort was made by her crew to lower boats to help the passengers off the Chicago, who were then in the water by the score, their cries being plainly audible on shore.

PASSENGERS RESCUED.

The fire boat, the police boat Patrol and several launches were called to the scene and lent valuable work in rescuing people. Several small boats were sent out from the neighboring piers and in ones and twos and threes the drenched, chilled and sometimes unconscious passengers were brought into the piers, where they received needed attention.

John Bryson, who was drowned, was the driver of a United States mail van going to the New York postoffice. Besides the vehicle in Bryson's charge there were on the Chicago a truck belonging to the Adams Express company containing $8,000 in silver bars, two produce trucks, two milk trucks and one other wagon.

CLERKS' UNION FAIR IS ON

GOOD CROWD AT THE OPENING FESTIVITIES.

Pretty Decorations and an Attractive Program—Entries for the Various Contests.

Monday evening was the opening night of the Clerks' Union fair, which is being held in the Y. M. C. A., and a large number of people took in the exhibition during the evening. The rooms are handsomely decorated and exhibits are made by a large number of wholesale and retail firms in the city. There was no opening address owing to the absence of Mayor Scherer from the city and the guests were invited to fall to without any ceremony, which they did. There were a number of booths which were not completed, but among those whose exhibits were in order were: The Packard Piano company, Soliday, Hite & Co., Wolf & Dessauer, Marion Black, G. E. Burley & Co., the latter having a room to themselves in which their exhibit of coffee and other groceries was shown, and which is one of the best in the fair. The first floor is occupied with booths of many descriptions, which were literally patronized during the evening. The Reineke orchestra furnished the music in the exhibition room, and afterward in the gymnasium for dancing. Little Misses Gladys Haskell and Marion Purcell gave a cake walk during the evening, and their performance met with great applause. The Wayne quartet gave several excellent vocal selections. Following are the entries for the different contests:

Most Popular Union Man—Cane and umbrella; C. J. Steiss, John Brunsell, James Darmer, Harry Harrison, G. R. Hench.

Most Popular Baby—Garcia; Henrietta Keller, Camille Rousell.

Most Popular School Girl—Watch; Lillian Sanders, Marie Hilker, Clara Schnitzer.

Most Popular Gentleman Clerk—Bicycle; Tony Bott, Charles Strittmatter.

Most Popular Lady Clerk—Collarette; Miss Sadie Smith, Miss Sadie Tonne.

Most Popular Working Girl—Electric seal jacket; Miss Ella Burns, Miss Rose Smith, Miss Hanna Wilkinson, Miss Agnes Felts.

Most Popular Young Lady—Diamond ring; Miss Katherine Langlois, Miss Ella Gaff, Miss Collins, Miss Tillie Ringenberger, Miss Grace May.

TONIGHT'S PROGRAM.

This evening Reineke's full orchestra will render a musical program from 8 to 9 o'clock, and this will be followed by the jubilee singers in a selection of old plantation melodies. Dancing from 9:30 to 11.

WILL ELECT A TREASURER.

The board of directors of the Reformed orphans' home will hold a meeting at that institution this evening. The most important business to come before the session is the election of a treasurer to succeed Rev. Ruf, who is now superintendent of the home.

Mrs. J. F. W. Meyer left today for a visit with her sons at St. Louis and will be absent several weeks.

Miss Laura Paltior will entertain at progressive pedro on Saturday afternoon from 2 to 5.

NEW FIRM FORMED.

THE JOHNSON-HUNTER DENTAL MANUFACTURING CO.

WILL MAKE DENTAL SUPPLIES

NEW MANUFACTURING INTEREST IN FORT WAYNE.

FACTORY ON BARR STREET

HAS BEEN LEASED AND WORK BEGINS AT ONCE

The Johnson-Hunter Dental Manufacturing company is the name of a new Fort Wayne institution which sprang into existence today, when articles of partnership were witnessed by and between Dr. George E. Johnson, president of the Peerless Fountain Cuspidor company, and L. C. Hunter, treasurer of the same organization. The new firm is formed for the manufacture of specialties and general supplies for dentists, prominent among which are the celebrated Peerless fountain, and an entirely new design, the Sen Shell fountain cuspidor.

The members of the new firm are both well known Fort Wayne citizens. Dr. Johnson is a leading dentist on Washington boulevard and Mr. Hunter is the county treasurer. Both are gentlemen of large business experience and ample means, and this is of itself an assurance of a successful career in the manufacturing line. Messrs. Chapin and Denny, the patent attorneys, are stockholders in the Peerless company and have been retained as legal advisors of the new firm, but will not be burdened with the duties of manufacturing.

In addition to the original capital stock of the Peerless company, the new firm will have an increased capital stock of $10,000. Dr. Johnson is president of the new company and will have charge of the department of drafting, art, invention and mechanical technique, but will also retain his dental practice. Mr. Hunter is secretary and treasurer of the new company, and will devote his entire attention to the management of the business after the expiration of his term of service as treasurer on January 1.

A large and commodious building owned by John White, on Barr street, has been leased, and soon this building will be a beehive of industry. Box machines, screw machines, engines, lathes, milling machines, punch and die presses, drilling presses, grinders and a fully equipped nickel plating plant will be installed. The plating department will be in charge of Fred Reineke, of the Wayne Plating works, and John Lipps will be foreman of the machine department.

The new decorated porcelain seal fountain, one of Dr. Johnson's latest inventions, is truly a pretty specimen of the ceramic art and is greatly admired by all who see it. It promises to be a winner on the market. The doctor is taking out twenty new patents in this and foreign countries on inventions in addition to those owned by the company, and as soon as possible the business will be extended to foreign countries. The new organization is a substantial addition to the manufacturing interests of the city.

ALEXANDER HAMILTON DUKE.

Kokomo, Ind., Oct. 31.—Alexander Hamilton Duke, for fifty years a resident of this city and one of the best known men of the county, died last night of Bright's disease. He was chief of police of Kokomo in the early 70's and he succeeded in breaking up the notorious Molihan gang, an organization of thieves and outlaws with ramifications in almost every town and village in north-central Indiana. He served two terms as sheriff of the county and had held other positions of public trust. At the time of his death he was a councilman for the third time from the First ward.

IN THE OLD DOMINION.

Richmond, Va., Oct. 31.—President McKinley made his first official visit to the state of Virginia today and was given a genuine Old Dominion welcome. Accompanied by members of his cabinet and many distinguished personages, he came here to witness the launching of the torpedo boat Shubrick, the first torpedo boat ever built in the south. A scene of great enthusiasm ensued when the president and party reached the city.

PLENTY OF IT.

Lots More Proof Like This and It is All From People You Know.

"The proof of the pudding is in the eating of it." If any city or town in the union has sufficient proof that the representations made for a household necessity are true, that place is Fort Wayne. If the cures in Fort Wayne numbered some half-dozen there might be grave doubts about their genuineness. That many people in a place the size of Fort Wayne might have based their opinions on pure imagination, but when public endorsement reaches scores, and as many more endorsers are willing to testify to the merits of Doan's Kidney Pills, the evidence and the proof is incontrovertible. Investigation, the most superficial, will prove that Doan's Kidney Pills are an actual household necessity in Fort Wayne. Here is one of our endorsers:

Miss Mary Arnold, of 14 Summit street, says: "Before I got Doan's Kidney Pills at Meyer Bros. & Co.'s drug store I took medicine of different kinds and was under the doctor's care, but neither seemed to do me any good. The doctor said I had kidney trouble, but at the same time did not give me much, if any, relief. I read about Doan's Kidney Pills and decided to try them. I had no sooner started to use them than I felt better. My backache, which had been very bad, began to bother me less and the dizziness also gradually began to disappear. The other symptoms of weak kidneys left and I steadily improved until I was in better health than I had been for years. The kidney trouble not only left me, but I cannot feel too thankful for the great good received from Doan's Kidney Pills."

Doan's Kidney Pills for sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Mailed by Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name Doan's and take no substitute.

THE COURT NEWS.

BIG SUIT FOR DAMAGES
AGAINST THE WABASH.

AUGUST KAADE IS PLAINTIFF

LILLIAN MAY BOSEKER IS GIVEN A DIVORCE.

HILKER CASE IN DECEMBER

IVINS AND JONES ASK FOR CHANGE OF VENUE.Through his attorneys, Ninde &
Sous, August Kaade, a former employee of the Wabash railway, has commenced suit for $10,000 against the Wabash railway. The complaint alleges that in August, 1898, while employed by the company, a ninety-five-pound wedge fell on plaintiff and so injured him that he has been unable since to resume his employment. He was at work under an engine when another employee loosened a bolt in the axle-box and allowed the heavy wedge to fall on plaintiff.

MRS. BOSEKER GETS DIVORCE.

Judge Vesey heard the evidence in the divorce case commenced by Lillian May Boseker against Harry C. Boseker and granted the plaintiff a decree. She was allowed to resume her maiden name, Lillian May Rodeheaver, but no alimony went with the decree, the financial part of the proceedings having been settled out of court.

HILKER CASE SET BACK.

On motion Judge O'Rourke has reset the case against William Hilker for trial on December 27, 1899. Delay in the commencement of the trial means that there will probably be no application made for a change of venue.

ASK FOR CHANGE.

Barrett & Morris, representing defendants in the damage case of Eudine Conklin vs. W. D. Jones and Lee Evans, have filed an application for a change of venue from the county. Judge O'Rourke deferred action until the attorneys could agree on some other county to try the case in.

NOTES.

Charles Youse is on trial in Squire France's court this afternoon on a charge of trespass preferred by Enoch Clayton. The principals in the case are farmers who reside in Madison township.

Richard F. Markey has been appointed administrator of the estate of Eliza Markey, deceased.

Jacob Snyder, guardian of Ralph M. Grace C. and Grover C. Snyder and Carrie May Baker, reports that he has made settlement of his wards' interests in the estates of John and Susan Horn.

Henry I. Smith has qualified as administrator of the estate of Julian Didier.

Judge O'Rourke has granted Harriet C. Scarlett a divorce from William H. Scarlett. The plaintiff was also given alimony in the sum of $100.

The claim docket in the circuit court will be called on the first day of the next term of court, November 20.

George Wilhelm has sued the Consolidated Street railway for $100 damages. A. H. Bittinger is plaintiff's attorney.

Judge Vesey dismissed the case of Schane vs. Schane.

The jury in the case of Besancon vs. Klinka, which was on trial for two days in the superior court, returned a verdict giving plaintiff judgment for $140.

In the case of Jesse Holliday, trustee, vs. the Wabash railway, plaintiff filed bond for costs and Judge Vesey ruled that defendant should answer before 10 o'clock on November 1.

Judge Vesey and a jury are trying the case of Hugh Kain et al. vs. Henry Van Camp.

In the divorce case of Mary Beyettin vs. Frederick Beyettin Judge Vesey ordered that a nunc pro tunc entry be made.

Anna E. Webster has commenced suit for divorce from George Webster, alleging abandonment. The couple were married on June 1, 1896, and defendant abandoned the plaintiff in October, 1898. Plaintiff asks for permission to resume her maiden name, Anna E. Knop.

Ira Runtion, Louis, Henry and August Pequinot, all of Eel River township, were arrested and taken before Justice Bullerman late this afternoon on the charges of assault and battery. The fight between them having occurred last week. Runtion and August Pequinot were fined $1 and costs each and Louis and Henry Pequinot were released.

TERRITORY WILL BE ANNEXED

MR. ALDERMAN THEN AGREES

TO OPEN STREETS.

Force and John Will Be Extended to the City Limits—Board of Works.

An ordinance introduced in the council providing for the annexation of property east of Hanna street from Colerick street to the extended line of Smith street, means that an agreement has been reached between the city and Frank Alderman, who owns a big portion of the property in the territory which it is proposed to annex. The board of works some time ago secured from Mr. Alderman a written agreement that if the property was annexed to the city he would agree to open Force and John streets to the new city limits. For years there has been contention between Councilman Borkenstein and Mr. Alderman on this question and the signed agreement settles the matter and it is believed now that there will be no further objection to annexing the territory.

BOARD OF WORKS.

At the regular meeting Monday afternoon the board of works approved a plat for vacating the alley south of Huestis avenue, in Thompson's Third addition.

The board accepted a private sewer constructed in the alley north of Edgerton street.

Contractor Fleming reported that he had completed the Lewis street pavement and the board will pass on the assessment rolls at Thursday evening's meeting.

The bond of Thomas Ahern, a sewer builder, was approved.

SHE QUIT COFFEE

And Got Well in Common Sense Way.

"When I left off coffee it seemed that was the thing hardest to drop. I had been put on a diet for stomach trouble, had a good appetite, but no food would stay on my stomach. I was compelled to leave off one thing after another, but never suspected coffee. When I decided to leave off the coffee, however, my stomach trouble ceased entirely, also my nervousness, and I can again sleep well. But a new trouble then arose. How was I to get along without my coffee? It was a great temptation when I saw it on the table in the morning. One day a friend who knew of my case sent me a package of Postum Cereal Food Coffee. After it had been prepared I had great misgivings about using it, for it looked so much like fine coffee that I feared it would have the same effect, but I soon found it to be free from all injurious properties and its use has been of great benefit to me.

"I have never had any taste for coffee since using Postum Cereal Food Coffee. My children derive great benefit from using Postum. We all enjoy it very much, having discarded the old-fashioned coffee entirely."

Alice Lawrence, Bowen, Mont.

Postum Food Coffee is sold by all first-class grocers at 15 and 25 cents per package.

STUDENTS' PETITION.

It is said the class in myology in the Fort Wayne Medical college, which is taught by Dr. C. E. Barnett, has prepared a petition asking for a change in teachers and that it is now in the hands of the faculty. One of the students said to The Sentinel today the class would attend Dr. Barnett's lectures Wednesday morning.

TRACTION COMPANIES AMONG THOSE SUED.

Chicago, Oct. 31.—Civil suits for the collection of penalties aggregating $402,500 for violation of the anti-trust and pooling law were begun here today under the direction of the attorney general against fifty corporations doing business in Chicago and Cook county. The penalties are at the rate of $75 a day for failure to file affidavits that the corporations are not in any agreement or combination for the control of output, prices or the restriction of trade.

Among the corporations which it is alleged have failed to comply with the law are the West Chicago Street railway and the Metropolitan Elevated Railway company.

THE RECORD OF CASUALTIES.

BADLY SCALDED.

Mrs. L. P. Ingles, of Bloomingdale, was severely scalded about the arms and body, Monday, while lifting a kettle of hot water from the stove. One of the handles broke and the steaming contents of the kettle was spilled on her arms and body, causing painful burns.

BROKE HIS WRIST.

Fred, the twelve-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John Martin, of West Jefferson street, was scuffling with a number of companions while returning from school, Monday afternoon, when he fell and broke his right wrist. A physician set the fractured member.

OTHER ACCIDENTS.

A baby son of Mrs. Josephine Fink, of Stophlet street, fell from a baby carriage, Monday afternoon, and sustained several cuts and abrasions.

Henry Saunders, who is employed in the Hart sawmill in Marion township, was badly cut about the arm and hand by a large circular saw, on Monday afternoon.

SUNDAY HUNTING.

Editor Sentinel:—Your paper is at ways on the side of law and order. Can you suggest any means by which the farmers can be protected from Sunday hunters? A very large majority of farmers like to go to church with their families, as it is their duty to do. Hunters take advantage of their absence and paying no attention to notices knock down fences, shoot among their cattle whenever a bird happens to get up thus making it a necessity for farmers to stay away from church to protect their premises. Last Sunday it was bang, bang all over the township southwest of your city. These pot-hunters pay no attention to the commandments of God or the laws of man. If you can suggest some reasonable plan to put an end to this lawlessness you will oblige a lot of your former subscribers and farmers generally.

LECTURES ON FREEDMEN.

On Wednesday evening Mrs. Palmer, a gifted member of the Presbyterian Freedmen's board, will deliver a lecture at Westminster church upon the work among the American freedmen. Soon after the emancipation of the American negro Mrs. Palmer devoted a number of years to religious work among the colored people in the southern states and since that time has been engaged in missionary work in China and various other fields. She is a most gifted speaker.

AN UNSAVORY DISPUTE.

Deputy Sheriffs Young and Witte made no arrests at Sheldon Monday.

When they arrived there they learned that on Sunday Samuel Carpenter had a quarrel with Robert Carpenter, a brother, and Robert's wife, Rosa Carpenter. Samuel slapped the woman and thrashed her husband, but as there were no affidavits the officers did not arrest any of the persons participating in the fracas. The trouble all came out of a dispute about some skunk oil.

CONFERRED WITH STROBEL.

William Meyer, county auditor, has returned from Toledo, where he was in consultation with Charles Strobel, the Toledo base ball manager. Mr. Strobel insists that Mr. Meyer shall remain a candidate for president of the Inter-State and promises to use every honest effort to secure his election. Mr. Strobel says positively that he will not remain in the Inter-State if C. B. Power is re-elected president.

MRS. RIJNHART'S LECTURES.

The addresses of Mrs. Susie Rijnhart, the Thibetan missionary, which were given at Grace Reformed church on Sunday and Monday evenings were heard with the closest interest by two very large audiences. Mrs. Rijnhart is a pleasing speaker and her descriptions of the manners and customs of the Thibetans; the story of her own tragic experiences among them as a missionary, proved very instructive. The audience Monday evening was made up largely of the same people who had heard the speaker Sunday evening, showing the interest aroused in this intrepid woman who has braved a thousand dangers in carrying the Gospel to the half-savage Thibetan tribes. Sunday evening was devoted to a description of the Thibetans as a people, their customs and habits. Buddhism is the religion of the country, and its devotees are immoral, superstitions and primitive in their habits, while filth is a prominent characteristic of the people. Her lecture Monday evening dwelt upon her journey into the interior as a missionary, of the death of her little child and the disappearance of her husband, who fell into the hands of the savage tribesmen and was slain. The recital of her experiences was of absorbing interest and will do much in accomplishing its object—an awakening upon the subject of missionary work. This evening Mrs. Rijnhart will speak at the West Jefferson street Church of Christ. She leaves Fort Wayne tomorrow for her home at Windsor, Canada, and after a time expects to return to this city for a visit with friends.

OPENS AN OFFICE.

Charles Freese, who until recently was a member of the drug firm of Freese & Ranke, has rented offices in the Sentinel building and Wednesday morning will establish himself there as manufacturers' agent for electrical supplies. Mr. Freese has already received encouraging prospects of a successful business and will devote his entire time to this department of work.

DEATHS AND FUNERALS.

ENGLE.

The death of Mrs. Rosina Engle occurred this morning at the home of her son, William Engle, 179 West DeWald street, and was due to paralysis. Mrs. Engle had reached the age of seventy-five years. Her husband died a number of years ago. She was a native of Germany and came to America sixty-one years ago. Surviving her are two sons—William Engle, of this city, and John Engle, who resides at Kansas City. Mrs. Regina Wells, of Fort Wayne, is a sister.

The funeral services will be held Friday afternoon at 1:30 from the residence and at 2 o'clock from Bethel Evangelical church, corner of Clinton and East DeWald streets.

FUNERAL ANNOUNCEMENT.

Ziegenfelder.—Funeral services of Mrs. Mary Ziegenfelder will be held Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the residence, 280 East Jefferson street, and at 2:30 from the Cathedral.

EXONERATES OFFICERS.

Coroner Charles S. Williams, of Whitley county, filed his report in the Otto Cummins case with the Whitley county clerk Monday. It is quite a voluminous document, containing the evidence of several Fort Wayne officers and physicians. Basing his judgment upon the evidence, the coroner rendered the following verdict:

I, Chas. S. Williams, coroner of Whitley county, Indiana, aforesaid, do therefore find as my verdict in the matter of the death of said Otto Cummins, that said Otto Cummins came to his death by a fracture of the inner plate of the skull, producing a blood clot and consequent death. I do further find that so far as the evidence discloses, that said death was accidental, and I do further find that at the time of his arrest in the city of Fort Wayne he was laboring under mania produced by epilepsy, and that the officials who had him in charge used only such force as was necessary to control and overpower him, and that while the force used in controlling him may or may not have been the cause of his death, yet such force was necessary, and no injury to the person of said Otto Cummins was contemplated by said officers in the discharge of their duty.

Chas. S. Williams,
Coroner of Whitley County.

SEEKING NEW LOCATION.

Mr. Hurst, traveling agent of Swift & Co., the Chicago beef packers who have a wholesale depot on North Calhoun street, has been in the city with a view of finding a new location for the branch house here. The location at the corner of Columbia and Clinton streets was under consideration, but it is believed no determination has been reached in the matter.

Professor and Mrs. Gleason, J. Wils Pearce and Mrs. Gleason's employees left this morning for Atlanta, Ga., where Professor Gleason will give exhibitions in horse training. Mr. Pearce makes the trip for the benefit of his health.

All members of the Epworth Leagues, Christian Endeavor societies and Baptist Young Peoples' Unions of the city are requested to meet in the lecture room of the First Baptist church next Sunday evening at 8 o'clock to consider some very important questions.

The employees of the Morgenthau millinery establishment, and friends, were entertained at an old time dance in Mulqueen's dancing academy, on Monday evening. All were dressed in the costume worn in the early years of the century. A most pleasant evening was spent.

A large plate glass window in the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Tibbels, of South Webster street, was broken by a stone thrown by one of a crowd of small boys who were passing. The lads have been causing considerable trouble to residents on the south side by their acts of vandalism.

The three-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Watt, celebrated her birthday anniversary in a fitting way by entertaining a large number of her little friends in the suits occupied by her parents at the Randall hotel, Monday afternoon. The mothers of the little guests were present and both generations spent an enjoyable afternoon.

It is hoped the friends of the R. and N. society will not think the organization has disbanded, as such is not the case. Last Thursday the society had a good meeting at the home of Mrs. Boehm, and besides the regular Bible reading they arranged for future work. At the close of the session the members repaired to the dining room, where an elaborate lunch awaited them.

The members of the Fox-Hossey-Weatherlogg-Bensus-Mohr-Hattersley-Dreier party of tourists are showing their friends pictures of many of the scenes of interest they saw while traveling through the Grand Canyon and up the mountains of Colorado and New Mexico. Almost every view contains a picture of one or more of the Fort Wayne party, and for this reason are of more than ordinary interest to the persons who have been lucky enough to see them. A heroine on the trip was Mr. Fox's burro, Minnie, and at one time or another pictures of every member of the party were taken while making love to the little animal.

WEDDING ANNIVERSARY.

A very pleasant party was given Monday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Burnham, 30 West Fourth street, in honor of their crystal wedding anniversary. About twenty-five guests were present, and Mr. and Mrs. Burnham were the recipients of many handsome and useful presents. Progressive pedro was enjoyed until a late hour, and first prizes were won by Mrs. Clem Rekers and Mrs. T. J. Cummings. The consolation awards went to Mrs. McConnell and Clem Rekers. An elaborate luncheon was served at the close of the games.

Miss Cora Fogle, of this city, is in Peru visiting with Mrs. M. H. Kraus.

Mrs. Edith Fleischman has returned from a visit with Huntington friends.

Mrs. Fred Kraft, of this city, is visiting friends in Peru, where the lady formerly resided.

Mrs. Herman H. Hettler and son, of Chicago, are in the city, guests of Captain and Mrs. Hettler.

Attorney Thomas Gallivan, of Columbia City, transacted legal business in Fort Wayne Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Gynn Hottel have returned from Columbia City, where they were guests of Prof. Hottel and family.

George Gillie, who received an accidental gunshot wound last week, is making gratifying progress toward recovery.

F. C. Stahl, who spent Saturday and Sunday with Fort Wayne friends, has returned to his home in Huntington.

Mrs. E. T. Waring, E. G. Gardiner and John North, of Bluffton, were Fort Wayne visitors Monday afternoon.

Miss Blanche Axt returned Monday from Huntington, where she had been the guest for a few days of Miss Eva McElanahan.

Rev. S. Light, of Bluffton, will deliver a lecture entitled "Three Things of a Man" at Simpson M. E. church this evening.

ELECTED OFFICERS.

The Christian Endeavor society of Bethany Presbyterian church has elected the following officers: Mrs. William Carter, president; Miss Lillie Screen, vice president; Miss Grace Laylander, secretary; Miss Eva Stover, treasurer; Miss Zona Hopkins, organist; Miss Eva Moore, assistant organist.

A NIGHT OF TERROR.

"Awful anxiety was felt for the widow of the brave General Burnham, of Machias, Me., when the doctors said she could not live till morning," writes Mrs. S. H. Lincoln, who attended her that fearful night. "All thought she must soon die from pneumonia, but she begged for Dr. King's New Discovery, saying it had more than once saved her life, and had cured her of consumption. After three small doses she slept easily all night, and its further use completely cured her." This marvelous medicine is guaranteed to cure all Throat, Chest and Lung Diseases. Only 50c and $1.00. Trial bottles free at Dreier & Bro.'s drug store.

What General White seems now to badly need is rapid transit.

George Dewey, anew we salute

you. You are still the greatest and we congratulate you on this latest proof of it. To the bride-elect, the choicest sentiments to fit an occasion so happy. Whom Dewey loves the nation will take to its heart.

The fighting at Ladysmith is tolerably gory, but for real unengaged news just wait till the election returns begin to come in from Kentucky next week.

General Joubert may grow whiskers of populistic plenitude and un-military cut, but he knows a thing or two when it comes to the actual business of war. When this unpleasantness in the Transvaal is over, any nation in need of a good fighting man might give the Boer soldier a probationary job.

It may be that Ambassador Choate was too busy to attend the dinner given by the London Chamber of Commerce to ex-President Harrison, but it is probable that President McKinley regrets such business, as it gives opportunity for the rumor that the administration is still engaged in "turning down" every possible candidate for the republican presidential nomination. The absence of the ambassador caused much chagrin to the givers of the dinner.

A Wayne township farmer writes to The Sentinel today to complain of hunters who desecrate the Sabbath, thereby compelling many farmers to remain from religious services in order to protect their premises from trespassers. The correspondent asks The Sentinel to suggest a remedy. Undoubtedly a vigorous prosecution of a few of such trespassers would have a salutary effect upon the balance of them. The law is ample to protect if it is invoked, and we believe it would be a public service if some of those farmers who are thus annoyed would take some concerted action to vigorously prosecute the class of offenders complained of.

A bartender in a New York saloon, whose uncle in Germany has died and left him a legacy of $30,000, says he never suspected that there were so many "confidence" men in New York until he became a rich man. He is still working in the saloon, and he will continue to do so until he has his legacy actually in his pocket. In the meantime he has been asked to back a poker room, to buy tips on the market in Wall street, to invest in one or two Klondike mines, to bet on three-card monte, to lend money to a German count who wants to go home to take possession of vast estates, and to contribute $1,000 to a Cherry street mission. He says it is no wonder that millionaires often die young.

If late accounts from Ohio are to be believed, Senator Mark Hanna is undergoing more than an evolution in oratory. His advent as a spell-binder seems to have been a fairly successful political experiment and now we are told that he is becoming a conspicuous popular figure in the Buckeye state. Crowds run after him, and he has thus been converted into a good deal of an idol. May this not have a further effect on Hanna's ambition? May he not aspire to be more than a presidential Warwick and get the bee in his bonnet to wear a presidential crown himself? In other words, may he not be moved to the conceit that the people regard him as "a bigger man than old" McKinley, to quote a well remembered instance of personal congratulation. It is, apparently, among the possibilities, in view of this phenomenal growth of Hanna, that he may be led to aspire to something more than the position of the power behind the throne.

A BODY BLOW.

Wily old General Joubert has delivered a body blow to General White on the Natal frontier. According to the dispatches about two thousand men and a battery of field artillery—estimated to be approximately one-fifth of General White's effective force—have been captured. General White, in his official report of the disaster, takes upon himself the entire blame, saying he had ordered two regiments and a battery to an untenable position. That is courageous and manly, but it does not mitigate the British disaster.

The effect of this Boer triumph can hardly be estimated. It still further endangers General White's position and gravely menaces his entire army. The moral effect on the nations of Europe who are now itching to interfere in the Transvaal war will be tremendous. It is a crushing stroke and that Britain is plunged in gloom by the disaster may easily be conceived. Further tales of disaster to British arms at Ladysmith far from occasioning surprise will now be rather expected.

On using Electric Bitters, America's greatest Blood and Nerve Remedy, all pain soon left him. He says this grand medicine is what his country needs. DEWEY TO MARRY

THE ADMIRAL ANNOUNCES HIS ENGAGEMENT.

MRS. W. B. HAZEN HIS CHOICE

SHE IS A SISTER OF HON. JOHN

R. McLEAN.

WEDDING DAY IS NOT FIXED

THE HERO RECEIVES MANY CONGRATULATIONS.

Washington, Oct. 31.—Admiral Dewey last night announced his engagement to Mrs. W. B. Hazen, of this city. Mrs. Hazen is the widow of General Hazen, formerly chief signal officer of the army, who died about ten years ago, and is a sister of John R. McLean, democratic candidate for governor of Ohio. Mrs. Hazen has no children, and since her husband's death has made her home with her mother. She is wealthy, about forty years of age and popular in the best social circles of Washington. The date for the wedding has not been fixed.

The news was kept quiet yesterday, but last night it was circulated at the Lafayette Square theatre, where Admiral Dewey, with Major Thomas Ferguson, ex-minister to Norway and Sweden, occupied a box. Other box parties present were: Secretary Long and Misses Long; Secretary of the Interior Hitchcock, Misses Hitchcock; and Major Nimspon, chief of the Bureau of military information; Captain Joseph B. Foraker and Mrs. Foraker, Admiral Schley and Mrs. Schley and General Corbin and ladies.

ADMIRAL CONGRATULATED. As soon as the news got into circulation there was a general call at Admiral Dewey's box, where he received the congratulations of his friends. The facts soon became known throughout the house, and the applause which greeted the admiral on his entry into his box was redoubled as he received the congratulations of the cabinet officers and other intimate friends. There was vociferous applause when Rear Admiral Schley visited Admiral Dewey's box.

The report that Admiral Dewey and Mrs. Hazen were engaged, was current soon after the admiral's arrival in New York. It was stoutly denied, however, by the friends of Mrs. Hazen. It now appears to have been a fact, which it was desired to be kept quiet until the admiral wanted it to become known.

The date for the marriage has not yet been fixed. Admiral Dewey made the first announcement of his engagement to ex-Secretary Herbert of the navy, the admiral's personal friend and lawyer. Admiral Dewey warmly embraced the ex-secretary when making the announcement. The admiral told the story to the Tennessee delegation, headed by Congressman John Wesley Gaines, who had called on the admiral to invite him to Nashville for the reception of the First Tennessee volunteers. This was about 6:30 o'clock this afternoon. No further mention of the interesting affair was made until to-night at the theatre.

MRS. HAZEN IS POPULAR.

Mrs. Hazen is the widow of the late General Hazen, who was chief of the signal service. She is one of the most popular of Washington's hostesses. Since the death of her husband she has lived with her mother, Mrs. Harrington McLean, and has taken an active part in the social gayeties of each season, being everywhere sought after for her brightness, vivacity and wit.

Universally admired, the young and handsome widow has had marked attention and from time to time been reported engaged. The first of these rumors was in connection with General Schofield, whose attentions were marked before his second marriage. The last affair on the tongue of gossip was the association of her name with General Corbin, whose admiration of Mrs. Hazen was an open secret. When a fortnight since the fair widow was reported the lady of Dewey's choice the family look every opportunity of denying it, treating it as too absurd for notice. In this way public interest was diverted and the hero of Manila relieved of further embarrassment.

EVERYBODY IS SURPRISED.

The announcement of the engagement comes like a bomb in a sleeping camp, since many a maid and widow had set their wits to work to conquer the apparently unconquerable fortress of Dewey's heart. Mrs. Hazen is an Ohio girl, the youngest of the family of which John R. McLean is the eldest brother. The oldest sister, Mrs. Bingham, was some two years ago married to Colonel Ludington, at present occupying the old Sickles house on Lafayette square.

Mrs. Hazen is in mourning for her only son, whose death by a fall from his horse about eighteen months ago plunged the family in deep sorrow. Young Hazen was his mother's idol and it was feared the shock would kill her. Since then she has lived quietly, dividing her time between Washington and her country place in the suburbs.

Mrs. Hazen owns the residence on K street, recently vacated by Secretary Alger, one of the handsomest west end residences, and is reputed a woman of large means. In appearance she typifies the poet's conception as "fat, fair and forty."

ROMANCE IN DEWEY'S LIFE. Admiral Dewey's wife died in 1872 and for several years he did not go out in society, but when in 1877 he was ordered to Washington, where he became the naval secretary of the lighthouse board, he became one of the gayest of a coterie composed of military, naval and public men. It was at this time that the romance of his life took place.

The house where Dewey lived was in the fashionable quarter and but a short distance from that of Archibald Lowery, for many years a prominent man in the capital city. Judge Lowery was wealthy and aristocratic, but when he learned that the commodore was in love with his daughter Virginia he favored the match. Not so the daughter. She had met an attaché of the Spanish legation, Don J. Brunetti, better known as "Jack," and had fallen in love with the dark-skinned Spaniard.

GAS TAKES A JUMP.

Richmond, Ind., Oct. 31.—Today is the last day that Richmond people will enjoy natural gas at 15 cents a thousand cubic feet. The price on Wednesday jumps to 25 cents and in consequence there will be a large number of persons who will go back to wood and coal. Many, however, will stick to the company, despite the advance, because of the belief that with fewer consumers and with the meter system the supply will be better than last winter. Under the old system many patrons who did not care to burn gas by meter removed the meters and conducted gas into grates or stoves through pipes, thus getting an increased supply without extra cost. Under the meter system this privilege will still be granted patrons, but it will come pretty high. The suits of the citizens against the Richmond Natural Gas company for charging alleged unreasonable rates still remain in statu quo, and there is no evidence that there is to be any immediate action on either side. When the company raised the price from 12½ cents to 15 cents a thousand cubic feet there was a great cry from patrons, and money was freely contributed to test the legality of the action. The decision of the court favored the gas company and the much talked-of appeal to the supreme court has not been perfected.

THE MARKETS.

Chicago, Oct. 31.—Reports of serious reversals to the English army in the Transvaal together with higher cables and a sharp drop in British consols, created a bullish sentiment in the wheat pit today. The market opened firm with shorts covering freely, but outside selling and profit-taking checked the advance.

Reports of an important increase in the German duty on wheat also encouraged selling. The market showed more activity than for two weeks, with the buying and selling about equally divided, after the initial flurry. December opened 3/4 cents higher at 70 1/4¢, held steady for a time at 70 1/2¢ and then sagged slowly to 70 1/4¢.

Chicago received 156 cars, 23 of which were graded contract. Minneapolis and Duluth got 906 cars, compared with 1,725 for the corresponding day a year ago.

Corn was irregular and active. The market started strong with wheat, but weakened temporarily under heavy liquidation, owing to a slack cash demand.

Disappointing cables and large receipts were against the market, but after a couple of hours depression commission house buying started an upturn. Receipts, 453 cars.

December opened a shade higher at 31 1/4¢, declined to 31 1/8¢ and rose to 31 1/4¢.

Oats were dull and a trifle easier in sympathy with corn. Receipts, 283 cars. December opened unchanged at 22 1/4¢ and declined to 22 1/8¢.

Lower prices for hogs and the decline in corn weakened provisions. Packers with English connections sold freely. January pork opened unchanged at $9.70 and declined to $9.60@67 1/2¢; January lard ruled 5c lower at $9.32 1/2¢, and January ribs 2 1/2¢ lower at $4.95@4.97 1/2¢.

CHICAGO LIVE STOCK.

Chicago, Oct. 31.—Estimated receipts of hogs today, 37,000; tomorrow, 35,000; left over, 2,722.

Market slow, lower. Mixed and butchers, $4.00@4.35; good heavy, $4.10@4.35; rough heavy, $3.85@4.00; light, $4.05@4.30. Cattle receipts, 6,000; market steady. Beaves, $4.50@6.50; cows and heifers, $1.75@5.10; Texas steers, $3.25@4.00; stockers and feeders, $2.00@4.60.

THE CLOSE.

Prices at the close were as follows: Wheat—Dec., 70 1/4¢; May, 74 1/4¢; Corn—Oct., 31 1/4¢; Nov., 31 1/8¢; Dec., 31 1/8¢; Jan., 31¢; May, 32 1/2¢; Oats—Oct., 22 1/4¢; Nov., 22 1/8¢; Dec., 22 1/8¢; May, 24 1/4¢. Pork—Oct., $9.05; Dec., $8.15; Jan., $9.70@9.72 1/2¢; May, $9.60. Lard—Dec., $5.15; Oct., $5.12 1/2¢; Jan., $5.32 1/2¢. Ribs—Oct., $4.85; Dec., $4.82 1/2¢; Jan., $4.85. Flax—Cash N. W., $1.28; Cash S. W., $1.27 1/2¢; Oct., $1.28; Dec., $1.28 1/4¢; May, $1.29 1/4¢.

THE DAY ON WALL STREET.

New York, Oct. 31.—The market opened at sharp declines all through the list on the news of reversals to the British troops at Ladysmith. The international and the prominent specialties led the decline. Of the former Norfolk and Western, Missouri Pacific, Louisville, Baltimore and Ohio preferred, and Union Pacific lost from 1 to 1 1/4, and of the latter sugar, steel and wire and international paper went down as much. The trading was very active and heavy blocks were thrown upon the market.

Supporting orders were distributed in leading stocks and the downward flurry was soon checked. The recovery, however, was feverish and there was points of weakness. New York Air Brake slumped 6 per cent. Toward 11 o'clock a drive against Manhattan and Sugar brought sympathetic weakness in the standard stocks, and a new lower level for many issues was made.

The market fell into dullness, but there was no let-up in the decline. There was conspicuous weakness in Glucose, Lackawanna and American Ice, which fell 2 1/2¢. Otherwise the changes from the 11 o'clock level were not wide. Prices hardened slightly before noon.

Sales of stocks to noon, 358,816 shares.

Dealings in bonds were contracted and prices lower.

The Wisconsin Central new stocks were lifted about 1/4 over last night's level, but the general list dropped with the exhaustion of the buying demand. The rate for money dropped to 6 per cent., but soared upward again. Federal Steel was marked up anew to 90 3/4¢ and Steel and Wire followed to 49. Republic Steel advanced 2, National Steel 2 1/2¢ and Smelting 1 1/2¢. The general market again refused to respond. The closing was quiet, active and firm at net losses with a few exceptions.

NEW YORK PRODUCE.

New York, Oct. 31.—Butter receipts, 9,822 packages; firm; western creamery, 17@24¢; June creamery, 17@24¢; factory, 14 1/2@16 1/2¢. Cheese, receipts 9,760 packages; dull and weak. Large white, 12¢; small white, 12 1/2¢; large colored, 12 1/2¢; small colored, 12 1/2¢. Eggs, receipts 12,229 packages; steady. Western ungraded at mark, 14@16¢. Sugar, raw and firm; refined, steady. Coffee, steady; No. 7, 6 1/2¢.

THE MONEY MARKET.

New York, Oct. 31.—Money on call stringent at 25 per cent. Prime mercantile paper, 5@5 1/2¢ per cent; sterling exchange easy with actual business in bankers' bills at $4.86@4.86 1/2¢ for demand and at $4.82 1/2¢@4.83 for 60 days; posted rates, $4.84@4.84 1/2¢ and $4.88@4.88 1/2¢ commercial bills, $4.82; silver certificates, 58¢; 50¢; bar silver, 58¢@58 1/2¢; Mexican dollars, 47¢.

THE BOND MARKET.

New York, Oct. 31.—Government bonds easier: U. S. 2s registered, 100 1/2¢; U. S. 3s registered, 107 1/2¢; U. S. 3s coupon, 108 1/2¢; U. S. 4s registered (new), 129¢; U. S. 4s coupon (new), 130¢; U. S. 4s registered (old), 111 1/2¢; U. S. 4s coupon (old), 112 1/2¢; U. S. 5s registered, 110 1/2¢; U. S. 5s coupon, 111 1/2¢.

LOCAL NEWS.

James K. Niblack, of Decatur, is in the city on a business trip.

Noah Knepper and wife have returned from Wyoming, Ind., after a pleasant visit with relatives and friends.

The Young Ladies' Sewing society of Grace Lutheran church will hold a meeting at the parsonage tomorrow evening.

The Ladies' Benevolent society of the Achduth Veshalom synagogue will meet at the home of Mrs. Ida Rothschild on Thursday afternoon.

Miss Maude Rhoades entertained a few friends in a very pleasant manner last evening. The time was spent in guessing contests and other games.

Rev. Light, of Bluffton, will deliver a lecture at the Simpson M. E. church this evening on "Three-Thirds of a Man." There will be no admittance fee.

Ben Hur Court, No. 15, has received an invitation from Kendallville court to attend a court meeting and banquet November 2, and it is probable a large number of members will go.

Dr. and Mrs. Davis and Messrs. Will Peltier and Frank Mohr have returned from a trip to Rome City. They brought home twenty-seven millards, which were shot on the borders of the lake.

A party of friends and relatives, numbering eighteen in all, were entertained Sunday by Mr. and Mrs. James A. Wise and daughter, of 301 Winter street, in honor of Miss Mary Wise, of Mason, Mich.

Mr. Whaley, representative of the Barber Asphalt company, is in the city, and with Engineer Randall has been taking some measurements of work done by the Barber people this summer so that a settlement can be made with the city.

The meeting of the Westminster Social circle, announced for tonight, has been postponed until Wednesday evening, Nov. 1, in order to avoid conflict with another meeting of the church. It will be held at the close of Mrs. Palmer's lecture.

John Weigant, night watchman at the Bass foundry, Monday night arrested William Blum, who was charged with stealing some rivets. He was brought into police court this morning, but was discharged at the request of the foundry management.

Mrs. Charles S. Phillips, of 51 Baker street, who left St. Joe hospital four weeks ago after an operation for appendicitis, does not improve as rapidly as had been hoped, and will return to the hospital for further treatment. Her husband is a watchman at the street car barns.

Superintendent Goshline has a card from Sandyville, Ohio, giving the description of a dead man who was found near that town. The description answers that of A. Stury, the Allen county Omishman who mysteriously disappeared two weeks ago, except as to dress.

John Martin, a cigarmaker, accumulated a "jag" and hired a horse Monday evening and had a high old time, driving at a rapid gait about the city, his actions at times being very disgusting. Officer Strodel arrested the fellow while he was driving on West Berry street and he was locked up over night. In police court Mayor Scherer heard the evidence and assessed a fine of $10 and costs, which was paid.

Dr. Froegler, secretary of the county board of health, says that three new cases of diphtheria were reported near Nine Mile this morning. The cases were reported by Dr. Sledid, who is attending some of the other cases in the neighborhood. Altogether Dr. Froegler says there are now about a dozen cases in the vicinity and he believes that the one case which was not reported before the epidemic is responsible for all the other cases. Health Officer Brokaw is watching the cases and enforcing strict quarantine.

Until the receipt of the news of the Ladysmith disaster, the latter course was considered out of question. But, now, there is no knowing what steps will be decided upon.

BOER LOSSES HEAVY.

London, Oct. 31.—A special dispatch from Ladysmith says the Boers have suffered severely during the engagement, some persons estimating their loss at 900 to 1,000 killed and wounded.

WHITE MAY FALL BACK.

London, Oct. 31.—Reports are current here that General White may retire to Pietermaritzburg while the railroad is intact. There is much divergence of opinion in military circles as to the advisability of such a step.

Mayor Scherer has returned from Huntington, where he was in conference with Mayor Dungan regarding telephone rates for police departments. The Municipal league appointed a committee to try and secure free use of telephones between cities of the league by police departments and the two mayors discussed a plan of presenting the request.

CHARMED A GREAT AUDIENCE

OPENING ENTERTAINMENT OF WOMAN'S CLUB LEAGUE.

Chicago Symphony Orchestra and
Soloists in an Artistic Recital
at Princess Rink.

Adolph Rosenbecker and his magnificent Chicago Symphony orchestra gave unmeasured delight to an audience of two thousand people at Princess rink Monday evening. It was the opening of the third season of the Woman's Club league entertainment course and in all respects a most auspicious introduction to the splendid series of entertainments that is to follow. With the orchestra a trio of stellar soloists—Mme. Ragna Linne, soprano; William H. Sherwood, pianist, and Heinrich Meyn, baritone—shared the honors of the evening, and the applause which greeted each number was wholehearted and sincere. The program was entirely classical and of a very high order, yet in its marvelous execution there was a delight for both the cultivated musical taste and the simpler lover of music whose soul responds genuinely to its influences without being able to define its witchery in technical terms. There was throughout the audience a genuine appreciation of the program in its entirety, from the opening overture from Tanhauser, through a wide range of musical versatility to the closing chords of Mendelssohn's Wedding March from Midsummer Night's Dream. Every number added new evidence to the artistic ability of the talented musicians Mr. Rosenbecker has gathered around him and their interpretation of musical expression in all its lights and shades showed how thoroughly the artistic spirit glows in each performer. Mr. Sherwood was in high favor with the audience and his delightful rendition of Saint-Saens' concerto at his first appearance was so thoroughly admired that he was obliged to respond to an encore. This was again true of his second number, and the audience seemed unwilling to part with an artist whose music appealed to the heart. Again and again Mr. Sherwood was compelled to bow his acknowledgments. Mme. Linne gave a very artistic rendition of the aria from the Queen of Sheba, and in response to an encore sang "The Snowflake." Her voice is sweet and sympathetic and is handled with the grace and culture of an artist. The baritone, Mr. Meyn, sang his way at once into the hearts of his hearers with the magnificent Tondor's Song from "Carmen," his rich and beautifully modulated voice displaying itself to splendid advantage. So prolonged was the applause which greeted this number that Mr. Meyn responded with Stephen Adams' "Adieu, Marie," and here his fine enunciation was especially apparent. In the orchestral accompaniments Mr. Rosenbecker's control was seen. His performers are instantly responsive to the movement of his baton, and while the orchestration was full and complete, the vocalists were at all times paramount. Theodore Beresina, solo violinist; Waldorf Singer, harpist, and Mr. Frye, as accompanist on the piano, competently contributed to the general excellence of the evening's pleasure. It is not too much to say that the opening entertainment of the club league course left nothing to be desired.

During the recent meeting of the Northern Indiana School Superintendents' club at Elkhart, the new geographies and readers were generally commended. A commercial course and a manual school in connection with the high school was not approved, except where both could be given as much attention as other branches. MANY WANT TO FIGHT BOERS.

Chicago, Oct. 31.—The British consul in this city, W. Wyndham, has addressed a communication to the Times-Herald saying that the number of applicants who wish to serve in the British army is so great, that he is unable personally to answer them and for the information of those still in ignorance of the fact, he states that no volunteers have been called for. He also denies a Minneapolis report that he advised two men who wished to enlist to go to Canada to join the Canadian regiment, which is now full.

SUICIDAL ASPHYXIATION.

Chicago, Oct. 31.—What seems to be, in the opinion of the police, a case of deliberate suicide and successful concealment of identity, was disclosed last night when the bodies of two men were discovered in a room in a hotel on South Canal street. They had been asphyxiated. The gas jet was found turned on full head in the room and the bodies lay side by side on the bed, fully dressed. The bodies were taken to the morgue. They presented the appearance of laborers.

INDIANA ROADS.

Governor Mount, who is preparing an elaborate statement for the Paris exhibition, demonstrating the progress made in providing good roads for the country population, says that the state of Indiana has 50,000 miles of graded and graveled highways, an average of 560 miles to each of its ninety-two counties. We have 8,683 miles of pike which are comparable with the best roads of France, where the roads are said to excel those of any other country on the globe. Only 209 of the excellent roads are owned by corporations maintaining toll gates. The latter have been abolished, as the roads have been improved by the county and state. We in this county can truthfully boast of the excellent condition of our highways, and the improvement goes steadily on. It is not many years since it was difficult in the winter season to get along many of our roads in the winter and spring, but it is different and better now. There is scarcely a strip of road in even the obscure corners that is not passable at all seasons.

As a result of a levy on personal belongings of Nickum, the light man, there was a sale at auction at Logansport Saturday afternoon, in satisfaction of an execution. The property seized upon was largely garden implements, and brought but little money.

Henry Unger, indicted for burning John Hood's barn, near Mexico, has been acquitted by a Miami county jury. Unger is a dairyman at Logansport, and he lost the property by mortgage to Hood. The state attempted to show that revenge caused the fire.

VOCAL ORGANS WORN OUT.

Wabash, Ind., Oct. 31.—Robert Miller, a well known traveling man for a shirt manufacturing concern in Goshen, is suffering from a peculiar affliction that has compelled him to abandon the road. A few days ago, while on a trip, he noticed that his voice was failing, and he finally became unable to make himself intelligible to his customers, save by the use of his hands. When he attempts to utter a word he emits a series of gurgling and explosive sounds that are incomprehensible. His physicians give him little hope of relief, though his health otherwise is excellent.

Avoid all drying inhalants and use that which cleanses and heals the membrane. Ely's Cream Balm is such a remedy and cures catarrh easily and pleasantly. Cold in the head vanishes quickly. Price 50 cents at druggists or by mail.

Catarrh caused difficulty in speaking and to a great extent loss of hearing. By the use of Ely's Cream Balm dropping of mucus has ceased, voice and hearing have greatly improved.—J. W. Davidson, Attorney at Law, Monmouth, Ill.

PELLENS AND POLSTER GIVE AN APT ILLUSTRATION.

THEIR VIEWS ON VINOL WORTH LEARNING.

This is the Preparation That is Being Much Talked About.

A reporter asked Mr. A. Polster, of the well known firm of Pellens & Polster, the same question that hundreds have asked him in the last few days. "Just tell me, precisely, please, why Vinol is better than cod liver oil."

Mr. Polster replied in his genial way, "You have given me a rather difficult task. I can explain to you in a few minutes the advantages of Vinol, but to do it in a half dozen words would hardly be possible. Perhaps I can illustrate its value, however, in a brief manner. Suppose you had never seen a hen's egg. A man who knew of them should tell you to eat three every day. I do not say that you would, mind you, but I am inclined to believe at the start you would make an heroic effort to get away with the whole thing, shell and all. The meat of the egg would be what you needed, the shell rather superfluous. In fact, as a matter of nourishment not quite the thing for your stomach.

There you are with cod liver oil. In it you have a medicine, or rather in the liver of a live cod there is a medicine known to be valuable for certain forms of wasting disease, a great reconstructer. Doctors have administered it for years. They were like the man who had never seen an egg before. They gave it to their patients just as they found it, shell and all. Yes, that is exactly it. The grease was useless and as bad for the stomach, almost, as would have been the shell of the egg. The kernel, or the meat of the remedy, the vital principles that they were after, were contained in it. Science has stepped in and done exactly what the man with the egg might have done—found a way to separate the healthful interior from the worthless husk.

Now we have the actual medicinal principles of the cod's liver. We have thrown away the useless encumbrances that formerly encloaked it, namely, the objectionable fat. We have taken this extract, placed it in a delicious table wine, and there you are. Patients who have needed cod liver oil and could not take it have no trouble in taking Vinol. Why, you could enjoy drinking it yourself, as pleasant as if, I did not tell you it was anything but a mild table wine. If you needed it, however, for a medicine, you would soon find it to be something different. The medicinal properties of the cod's liver heal damage done by diseases that are of a wasting nature, and the same principles give strength to the weakened digestion and enables the poor sufferer's worn out stomach to digest and obtain nutriment from everyday food. These same principles are also active disease germ annihilators.

Yes, I am glad to have you come any time that you care to learn anything more about Vinol. It has already proved itself to be a winner.

A BATTLESHIP RIVALRY.

How Uncle Sam
And John Bull
Are Striving to Build
The Best Naval Fighting Machines.

BY LIEUTENANT H. R. GAHAN.

In spite of the very cordial official relations now existing between Uncle Sam and John Bull, the rivalry between their respective naval establishments is just as sharp as ever.

The splendid record made by our navy in the Spanish war and the impetus given to the building of a newer and greater navy as a consequence have alarmed the British admiralty. The English see that if Britain is to continue to rule the wave they must keep pace with us or we shall forge to the front.

The most interesting comparison is to be made by putting the Kearsarge, our newest battleship, side by side with the best that England can show. The mightiest of England's battleships do not exceed the ship which we have standard rules, though with perhaps more slope to the sides than would be the case were no outside hull provided. The steadiness of the ship has been increased by building a jog in the underwater hull on each side, which serves the same purpose as bilge keels. A bilge keel, it should be known, acts as a steady power much the same as a balance pole does for the tight rope walker.

In adopting the "break in the hull" feature the English designers have uprooted an essentially American idea. It was Ericsson, the inventor of the Monitor, who originally incorporated a projecting overhang to a hull in order to secure greater righting qualities.

Additional data regarding the new British battleships give the length of each craft as 123 feet, beam 85 feet and draft 22 feet. The displacement will be about 18,000 tons. The engines, it is said, will develop about 18,000 horsepower.

The reported horsepower development planned for the new British ships is a great advance on the power generally planned for battleships. The engines of the new Maine are calculated to develop 16,000 horsepower, or 6,000 horsepower more than the engines of the Indiana, Massachusetts and Oregon type ships.

The cofferdam arrangement of the new British ships, it is understood, will be constructed with special reference to strength. The armor will be placed on the outer skin, and this when backed at the water line vicinity with corn pith serves to close any opening occasioned by the entrance of a shot. This is effected through the medium of the expansive properties of the corn pith matter when brought in contact with water.

Although these battleships will be larger than the Kearsarge, they will not have all the points of advantage. The Kearsarge is 363 feet long and has a beam of 72 feet. She has some big bunkers, however. In the forward and built to replace the gallant old craft that hid her bones on Housatonic three years ago.

It is a significant fact, too, that England has just laid down the keels of some new battleships which are intended to be a match not only for the Kearsarge, but for the Maine and Missouri, which are now in course of construction in American shipyards.

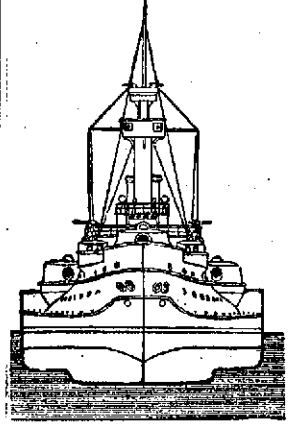

England has just discovered that she has been making a mistake in the construction of her biggest battleships. They draw too much water. Some of them require 30 feet. American builders have avoided this mistake. The new Kearsarge draws but 23 feet 6 inches, and the Maine and Missouri will have a like draft. The new British battleships will be built with a view of decreasing the draft without diminishing the amount of armor or armament.

The new batch of battleships which England is about to build as an offset to the Kearsarge, Maine and Missouri will be designed to carry the heaviest armor and the biggest guns on the lightest possible draft.

The enormous draft of the majority of England's war vessels provides to a great extent the use of those ships in American waters. With the exception of three or four ports on the Atlantic coast and then only at high water, and two ports on the Pacific coast, England's levathans are essentially barred from entering United States waters.

The British admiralty officials now claim that their new battleships will draw less water than any similar ships afloat, and that in point of speed and battery power the new craft will excel any vessels in existence or in process of construction anywhere.

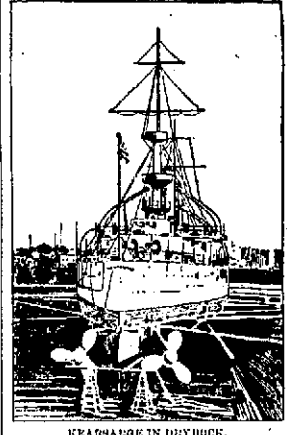

In the new British battleship the designs, it is said, first call for a hull proper with very pronounced sloping sides. Around this hull will be placed

LINKS OF ENGLAND'S NEWEST BATTLESHIP, a cofferdam construction, reaching from well below the water to the level of the main deck.

The cofferdam is expected to serve the same as would pontoons if lashed alongside. When a vessel's draft is too great to permit of her crossing a bar or shallow spot, a common recourse is to lash pontoons alongside filled with water. When firmly secured, the pontoons are pumped out, and the additional flotation power causes the vessel to rise in the water.

A vessel's draft is lessened when the beam is increased. In their new design the British architects have first built a vessel broader according to after turret are four 12 inch guns, and in the superimposed turrets above are four 8 inch guns. The four guns of either of these turrets may be concentrated on a single target and fired simultaneously by one man. Then look out for trouble for the enemy. The force of the shock of this mighty discharge would send one of the 13,890 pound howitzers of the battleship flying overboard if it happened to be on the deck near the turrets in the line of fire.

In the matter of protection the Kearsarge is well equipped. Along the water line there is a side armor belt of a maximum thickness of 10 1/2 inches, with a mean depth of 7 1/2 feet, so disposed in reference to the lead line that the vessel, with 410 tons of coal on board, has 7 1/2 feet of this belt armor above water and with 1,210 tons of coal on board has two feet above the lead line.

In addition to the armor belts, cofferdams filled with compressed fire-proofed American corn pith cellulose have been worked the entire length of the vessel in the region of the water line.

As to speed, the Kearsarge has just shown what she can do under medium forced draft. It is said that the new English battleships are expected to show a speed of nearly 19 knots. It must be remembered, however, that England and all other foreign naval powers make the speed tests of new warships under full forced draft and the most favorable conditions.

On paper our battleships may seem slower than those of England. The Oregon was supposed to be several knots slower than the ships of Cervera's squadron, yet the Spanish ships were readily overhauled in that memorable race out of Santiago harbor.

This is the present condition of the battleship building contest. We began with a big handicap, but we have been improving wonderfully of late. Now we think we can build just as good ships as our dear friend John Bull, if not a little better.

How to Cook Sheep's Heart.

Sheep's heart with tomatoes makes a very delicious dish. Clean the heart in the usual way. Make a stuffing for it of equal parts of tomato pulp and bread crumbs seasoned with a little chopped onion, pepper and salt. Then fill in the cavity with the stuffing, sew it up and stew till tender. Serve with thick brown gravy. Scatter chopped parsley over and garnish with two or three whole baked tomatoes.

TRAVEL OVER THE NICKEL
PLATE AND THE WABASH.

News from Toledo is to the effect that the Detroit and Lima Northern road is soon to be taken out of the hands of a receiver and turned over to the owners. W. B. Strang and Charles N. Haskell, who are the chief stockholders and members of the board of directors, are now in Toledo for that purpose. It is understood that a combination between the Lima Northern and the Detroit and Toledo Shore line has been effected. The latter is now being rapidly completed into Toledo. A short time ago Messrs. Haskell and Strang individually bought the St. Mary's division of the Lima Northern road and this places the company practically out of debt.

FIREMAN INJURED.

G. C. Burchard, a fireman on the Pittsburg road, was brought here on passenger train No. 15 early this morning, suffering from slight concussion of the brain. Mr. Burchard was injured at Robinson, Ohio, about midnight last night, while firing a freight engine. A big chunk of coal rolled off the top of the pile in the tender just as he stooped to pick up a scoopful, and struck him on the head. He was rendered unconscious, and in that condition was removed from the cab and held at Robinson until the passenger train arrived, when he was placed aboard and brought home. It is thought he will be all right in a few days.

DIED AT ORVILLE.

John Welten, of the Pittsburg shops, is in receipt of news of the death of his brother, Benjamin Welten, which occurred at Orville, Ohio, where the deceased had resided for a number of years. The cause of death was cancer of the stomach. Before the war of 1861, Benjamin Welten resided in this city and was employed in the sawmill of the Baker Brothers. He enlisted in Captain Hetler's company, 142d regiment, and served until the close of the war. Shortly after being mustered out he went to Orville, where he had lived ever since.

FELL FROM A WINDOW.

George Kronmiller is confined to his home, 43 Taylor street, with injuries received this morning while at work at the Pittsburg round house. He was washing the windows, when he fell from the sill of one of them and was badly bruised about the hips. Dr. George C. Stamen attended Mr. Kronmiller.

BIGGER PAY ROLLS.

The month of October has been a very busy one at the Wabash shops and as a result the pay rolls will exceed those of the preceding month by $3,000. There has been a big increase in the size of the pay rolls at those shops within the past year, and the future promises greater improvements in that way.

HIS TITLE CHANGED.

Harry M. Huston has received the title of night assistant trainmaster of the Pittsburg. For several months he has been performing the duties of that office, but under another title, and the only change is in the name. Mr. Huston is one of the rising railway men of Fort Wayne and The Sentinel expects to chronicle ere long his promotion to a much more important position than he now occupies.

ORE HANDLING MACHINE.

A machine that will unload the largest freighters on the lakes in seven hours, and with the aid of only six men, has just been put in operation at Ashtabula, Ohio, at the docks where the vessels engaged in the ore traffic unload. As soon as the machines can be built they will be placed at all docks where ore and coal are handled extensively and they will cause a revolution in that line. A dispatch to the Pittsburg Dispatch from Ashtabula thus describes these wonderful machines: "This machine weighs 400 tons, is fifty-five feet high and requires six men to operate it. The clam-shell bucket, which is the interesting and important part of the machine, dips out ten tons of ore at each lift. The clam-shell is attached to a revolving pulley. The bucket is lowered part way into the vessel's hold. The clam-shell is then opened and it is lowered again until it comes into contact with the ore. When it opens it has a spread of about nineteen feet. The bucket is closed by hydraulic power and thus grasps ten tons of ore. The clam-shell bucket is then raised again, opens and the ore is dropped either into cars standing upon the dock tracks or into a trolley car which will convey it to the dock piles. The machine is so arranged that the bucket can be swung around lengthwise of the boat, in which case it reaches about nine feet from the edge of the hatch in either direction, and will take out from 90 to 95 per cent of the ore cargo. The balance of the ore is shoveled by hand within reach of the scoop and taken out by the same method."

A MOGUL'S FAST RUN.

In designing the mogul engine more attention was paid to hauling power than to speed, yet these engines are capable of making good time when occasion requires it. Mogul No. 498, on the New York Central, hauled out train No. 111, the Southwestern limited, made up of two mail cars, five passenger coaches and nine Wagner cars, sixteen cars in all. The total weight of the train was 1,832,000 pounds, or 916 tons, and the length of the train, including the engine, was 1,212 feet, or nearly a quarter of a mile. This engine made the running time of the train between New York and Albany, 143 miles, in three hours and fifteen minutes.

RAILWAY RUNS THE TOWN.

It is announced that the Great Northern has won its fight to prevent the incorporation of the town of Hilliard, near Spokane. The contest was rather unique in some particulars. Hilliard is a town established and owned by the company. The residents are to a considerable extent employees of the Great Northern shops. The sale of liquor has been rigidly forbidden. However, the outside population which has floated in clamored for saloons, which the better element and the railroad opposed. In order to secure entry for the saloons an attempt to incorporate the town was made, but failed, and the railroad will continue to run the town without saloons.

A TRAVELING CONDUCTOR.

The Erie railroad has created a new office, that of instructor of trainmen, and has appointed E. B. Hardenbergh to the position. He is expected to travel all over the line and instruct the trainmen verbally on the intended meaning of the rules and orders sent out by the general officers of the road. He will visit terminals and personally examine conductors, freight and passenger, as to their understanding of the rules and orders concerning the collection of tickets, their forms and destinations, cash fare regulations and every question regarding the relations between the public and the company. The instructor will also hold schools wherever possible.

GOES BACK TO NICKEL PLATE.

The Indianapolis Journal says that B. S. Snyder, master mechanic of the Columbus, Sandusky and Hocking road, is to return to the Nickel Plate upon his retirement from his present position, which occurs tomorrow. Mr. Snyder was the general foreman of the Nickel Plate shops at Conneaut, Ohio, before he went to the Columbus, Sandusky and Hocking. It is probable that he will resume that office. John Gullinan, formerly master mechanic of the Norfolk and Western shops at Portsmouth, is to succeed Mr. Snyder on the Columbus, Sandusky and Hocking.

BEYERS' SUCCESSOR.

Louis Hans, who has succeeded W. H. Beyers as engineer of maintenance of way of the eastern division of the Pittsburg, passed through the city last night, en route to New Castle, to assume his official duties tomorrow. Mr. Beyers, as the reader will remember, has been transferred to the Akron division of the system in a more responsible position than he occupied on the Pittsburg division.

PERPETUAL ICE-MAKER.

Perpetual motion, or something very near it, has been invented by a Brooklyn man, according to his own assertion. He has produced a machine which he says will automatically furnish motive power for steamships and trains, purify the air of hospitals, theaters and other buildings, make 1,800 pounds of ice an hour and give the crew of the Holland submarine boat enough air to enable them to remain under water for two years. The machine looks like an ordinary refrigerator, but there are many complicated coils of pipe inside, together with a steel fan, and six separate chambers half filled with water. To start the machine to its full power it is necessary to load it with ninety pounds of ice. After that the contrivance does the rest automatically. In a few minutes the surrounding air can be reduced to a temperature of 50 degrees below zero, and inside the ice box it can be brought down to 200 below zero. The inventor says his machine will be a good thing for powder houses, where it is desirable that low temperature shall be maintained, and, in fact, there is no end to the usefulness of the contrivance where it is desirable to cool off things. He says it is the nearest thing to perpetual motion ever invented, because, when once it has been fed with enough ice to start it, it makes its own ice afterward indefinitely. He says it has nothing to do with the liquid air with which experiments have been conducted lately, but it is an original discovery that will revolutionize the steamship and railroad train of today. He has a working model of the invention at his workshop, and he has demonstrated that he can lower the temperature to an almost unbearable degree in a few moments. The machine has, so far, cost him $1,500, and he says it will easily run a 2,500-horse power marine engine.

MANNER OF KELLY'S DEATH.

A letter from Burleigh Currier states that William Kelly was adjusting some electrical apparatus, standing upon a chair for that purpose, and fell with his face resting against one wire and an arm across another, receiving a shock of 2,800 volts. Death was instantaneous. The remains are now en route to Austin, Texas, accompanied by Burton Kelly, a brother of the deceased. In his letter Mr. Currier stated that Mr. Kelly was a member of some benevolent and insurance order at Fort Wayne. He had forgotten what order.

THE WABASH PAYS DAMAGES.

The Wabash Railway company compromised suits in Justice Newell's court at Logansport last Saturday by paying into court $125 each to Ella and Elizabeth Friend, brought by their next friend, for damages suffered in being carried past their home and being compelled to walk back five miles, thereby from exposure contracting colds and causing their parents care, anxiety and physician's expenses. The parents were given $50 in addition for the trouble of nursing them. The girls are aged eleven and fourteen years and live at Burrows. They had come to Logansport on return tickets which the conductor took up when they were on their way home.

TWO SOLDIER TRAINS.

Nickel Plate train No. 5, due here at 1:55 a. m., was run in four sections this morning. The first section was the regular train with through westbound passengers. The second section was loaded with soldiers, en route west. They were turned over to the Chicago and Alton at Chicago. The third section was also loaded with soldiers and their camp equipment and it was turned over to the Wabash at New Haven and continued its western journey over that line. The fourth section carried emigrants, bound for the northwest.

INDUSTRIAL NOTES.

Blacksmith Peter Huntine, of the Bass works, is sick. G. Auer, a tinner, has taken a position in the Pittsburg shops. Machinist J. H. Bending left yesterday for Newport, Pa., to erect a Bess engine in an oak extracting works. Freight officials of the all-rail lines are giving notice that lake navigation will close this year November 15.

Nickel Plate Engineer W. E. Morris has returned from Ohio, where he spent a week very pleasantly with old friends and relatives.

In the week ending October 28 there were transferred over the Belt road at Indianapolis 21,232 cars, the largest number on record.

Brakeman Benjamin, who had an extra local freight run out of Knox, Ind., has moved to this city and will take a through freight run.

Machinist E. E. Bird, a recent addition to the ranks of Fort Wayne's mechanics, has resigned a position held at the Wabash shops.

Engines 1,348 and 1,479 are out of the Wabash shops, after general repairs, and as soon as tested will be turned over to the Buffalo division for service.

Theodore Dobler, chief clerk in the Pittsburg round house, has gone to Wisconsin in response to a telegram informing him of the serious illness of his mother.

John H. Welch, with a number of his workmen, left Monday evening for St. Louis, where they will put a new roof on the foundry in that city owned by J. H. Bass.

The Young Men's Christian association of Kentucky will, on February 15, hold its eighteenth annual state convention, and has arranged with M. E. Ingalls to address the convention on the day the Railroad branch holds its sessions. The convention will meet at Covington and will be in session four days. The Chicago & Eastern Illinois will establish extensive yards at Dalton Junction, fourteen miles from Chicago. It will be made the northern terminal, and as now planned the track capacity will be 3,000 cars. Boilermaker Thomas Morris has been transferred from the Wabash shops in this city to those at Ashley, where he will probably remain permanently. He went up to that place this morning.

Samuel Rothrock, a construction man in the employ of the Fort Wayne Electric company, has returned from Millintown, Pa., where he was visiting his friends and relatives. He formerly resided in that city.

So far this year the tonnage of coal and coke of the Pennsylvania has amounted to 22,024,650 tons, against 18,949,537 tons in the corresponding period of 1898. This was coal and coke originating on the road proper.

J. A. Bursley, F. J. O'Brien, Patrick O'Neill, J. Boone, F. Scheffer, J. A. Wise, William Fetter and C. H. Smith are new names on the absentee lists at the Pittsburg shops. With the exception of Mr. Smith all are sick.

On November 1 the Santa Fe will adopt the "piece work" system in its shops. Heretofore the men have been paid by the day. The Pennsylvania shops in this city are run upon the piece work system and apparently the method is satisfactory to the employees.

A rate war between the Chicago and Kansas City lines is imminent. There are five lines, the longest 520 miles, the shortest 458. Three of the lines can readily make the new four-hour schedule between the two points, but two will find it difficult, and it is thought will now cut passenger rates.

Fireman Frank Willis, of the Nickel Plate, who went to Colorado six weeks ago in hope of receiving physical benefits from the healthful climate, returned yesterday and has reported for duty on the road. He was not disappointed in the object of his western visit, for he is much better physically than when he left for Colorado.

Col. R. G. Thompson, who was at St. Louis in the interest of the proposed Mexican tour mentioned in The Sentinel a few days ago, returned this morning. He will probably leave tomorrow evening for Mexico City to arrange the details of the tour. Mr. Thompson is receiving many inquiries concerning the tour, and this leads him to believe that he is going to have no difficulty in getting up the party.

The raising of the Union station at Omaha, Neb., has been rendered necessary by the settlement of the foundations. It is built partly on made ground in a ravine, the soil being clay, and it is supposed that the soil was not sufficiently tested or that the foundations were not given sufficient proportions. The amount of settlement was from 4 1/2 to 9 inches. The building was raised from the foundation walls by jackscrews, and the foundations were then strengthened by concrete reinforcing walls and steel beams.

are pictures or decorations in colored stone set in iron and well decorated for porches, verandas, vestibules, parlors, halls, dining rooms, bathrooms, lavatories, etc., etc. They never wear out or fade. There are countless inferior imitations offered by unskilled mechanics, but they do not wear and give the satisfaction of the old-time article.

THE BORTOLI CO.

of Cincinnati are dealers in the genuine Mosaic and have a national reputation for doing first class work. The best of material, the most artistic designs and the most skilled workmen are employed. All the large cities of America bear evidence of their workmanship and at the recent Atlantic industrial and San Francisco Expositions were awarded silver medals. Their prices are very reasonable and anyone contemplating the use of this class of work, should investigate.

THE WEATHER.

Chicago, Oct. 31.—Forecast for Indiana—General fair tonight and Wednesday; winds shifting to brisk northerly.

LOCAL LINES.

Ralph Bond has returned from a visit in Chicago.
Mr. and Mrs. Charles Worden leave this evening for New York city.

Mrs. L. P. Drayer has resigned as organist in the Trinity Episcopal church.

Roy Johns is confined to his home with an injured knee, the result of a fall from a horse.

Mrs. Frank Hough leaves for Adrian, Mich., tomorrow, after an extended visit with friends in the city.

The Baptist Young People's union will give a Halloween entertainment in the parlors of the church this evening.

The high school class of 1899 today presented Prof. C. T. Lane with a huge bunch of chrysanthemums in honor of his birthday anniversary.

Mrs. Eidenour, of 155 Lafayette street, will entertain the Woman's Foreign Missionary society of the Berry Street M. E. church Thursday afternoon from 3 to 5.

The Young Bob o' Link club has been reorganized and will give weekly dances during the winter at their club rooms, No. 207 Calhoun street. The officers are: Otto Pomper, president; Fred Bushor, vice-president; Frank Schramm, secretary; Joe Schramm, treasurer.

A large number of delegates from this city are at Hammond, Ind., attending the convention of the teachers of the Lutheran schools of northern Indiana. The sessions will continue until Friday and matters of business in connection with the school, as well as methods of teaching, will be discussed. Papers will be read by prominent professors and teachers on various subjects.

West Berry street presented an animated appearance Monday evening and was very much like a street in Chicago would look in the evening. There was a large crowd out, including pedestrians and wheelmen, and the cause of the excitement was the appearance of two automobiles, which buzzed up and down the street for over an hour. Harry Meyer had his new machine out for a trial spin and was testing its speed. The two vehicles made a speed of about fourteen miles an hour.

A very pleasant masquerade surprise party was tendered Mrs. F. Curran at her home, at 75 John street, Saturday evening in honor of her forty-ninth birthday. The party was a complete surprise to Mrs. Curran, but she proved an admirable hostess. Several of the costumes worn by those present were very fine, while others were ridiculous in the extreme. Clowns talked to queens, while "Topsy" waltzed with a king. The evening was pleasantly spent in music, dancing and conversation. At 11:30 an elegant luncheon was served, after which all departed for their homes after wishing Mrs. Curran many more pleasant birthdays.

The Chautauqua club will hold a meeting this evening at the home of Mrs. Griffiths, on West Washington street.

Miss Agnes Rohan will entertain at cards this evening in compliment to her guest, Miss Catherine Cronin, of Grand Rapids, Mich.

The teachers of the Lutheran schools of the city will attend the north Indiana conference of Lutheran teachers at Hammond, Ind., commencing Wednesday morning. The Fort Wayne teachers will leave on the evening train for the conference and will not return until Friday evening. The Lutheran schools will be closed the balance of the week.

The first meeting for the year of delegate members to the Associated Charities will be held at the common council chamber, city hall, Thursday afternoon at 3:30. The subject for the hour will be the "Board of County Charities and Corrections." Col. R. S. Robertson, a member of the board for Allen county, will speak upon the aims and objects of this new law passed by the last legislature. The subject is one that should interest every citizen and a most cordial invitation is extended to everybody to attend the meeting.

A CARD.

Last spring "The Music House" of George Jacobs advertised that it would pay more attention to Sheet Music and small Musical Instruments. One has only to step in to his store rooms, No. 98 Calhoun street and they will at once perceive that this has been done.

Mr. Jacobs today has the most complete line of Music and Musical Goods of any retail store in northern Indiana. He has just received a large import order of Violins, fine Strings, Violin Bows, and other musical goods, such as it will pay to import. In Mandolins and Guitars he handles the Maurer, Washburn, Imperial, and is sole agent for the celebrated "Walden." In Music he has added the complete Schirmer Library, which contains Methods, Studies, Vocal and Instrumental Music. He also has contracts with all the leading publishing houses to furnish him all the latest Music as soon as it is printed, popular and standard.

Having received this large order from one of the greatest Musical Instrument firms of Europe, and dealing direct with the publishers, thereby saving all middle profits, he is able to supply his customers with the best goods at the least money, and thus has placed within the reach of the Musician, Teacher and Student the same facilities offered in larger cities.

As a Music House would hardly be complete without Pianos, he has only to mention that he carries such well-known makes as the WEBER, CHICKERING, KRANICH & BACH, FISCHER, WHEELLOCK, CROWN, and others—Pianos that stand among the best in the world.

Mr. Jacobs is one of the oldest dealers in the city and his musical ability and years of experience has enabled him to select the very best.

He kindly solicits a visit to his store, which will convince you of the fact, as above stated.
